Algeria Junta Challenges De Gaulle Plan

Ruling Group Asks Premier Junk Cabinet

Committee Urges Erasure Of French Political Parties

PARIS (AP) — Premier de Gaulle's plan for peace and a new way of life for Algeria was boldly challenged Tuesday by the French-Algerian revolutionary junta. It proposed for one thing that De Gaulle junk his Cabinet.

The junta's action in turn ran into opposition from Gen. Raoul Salan, the man named by De Gaulle as military and civilian boss over Algeria.

The All-Algeria Committee of Public Safety, in a closed meeting in Algiers, called for what it termed the erasure of French political parties and in their place a real Government of Public Salvation in Paris.

Paris political circles looked on the action as the most dangerous De Gaulle has faced since he took power June 1.

Paris Regime Silent

On his tour of Algeria last week, De Gaulle had told the public safety committees to get out of politics and confine themselves to working for the integration of the Algerian and European populations.

The De Gaulle government had no immediate comment on the committee action.

The committee resolution was transmitted to De Gaulle with the approval of Gen. Jacques Massu, key figure in the May 13 uprising against the Paris government. A copy of the motion first distributed to the press said "Approved by Gen. Raoul Salan." A junta spokesman also told reporters Salan personally had approved the action.

"Received By Gen. Salan"

Several hours later, however, the spokesman distributed copies marked only "Received by Gen. Salan." He said Salan had not signed the resolution, but "judged it as receivable and agreed that it represented the thinking of the people in Algeria."

He said the earlier approved version was a typing error.

The spokesman also said the part of the motion urging the abolition of political parties was only meant as an appeal for a party truce until De Gaulle's firm establishment in power.

Ike Opposes Substitute Trade Act Extension Bill

President Puts Prestige On Line In House Scrap

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower twice put his personal prestige and influence on the line Tuesday in a rousing House battle over extension of his authority to cut tariffs.

For the sake of American prosperity and free world strength and unity, Eisenhower said, the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act must be continued for five years. Crucial votes on an extension bill are coming up Wednesday, with proponents sounding more hopeful of the outcome than heretofore.

In two letters, read Tuesday in the closing stages of debate, the President threw his weight squarely against an alternative proposal offered by Rep. Richard M. Simpson (R-Pa).

"Tragic Blunder"

He said the substitute would be disastrous — "a tragic blunder which could seriously jeopardize the national interest, the foreign relations, as well as the security of the United States."

In advance for the reading of the Eisenhower letters, Simpson told the House that untruthful explanations of the substitute are coming from the executive branch of the government.

Other foes of the five-year extension contended that the U.S. textile industry is threatened with doom and that "Communist Russia is beginning to dictate the domestic policy" of America.

The substitute would extend for only two years Eisenhower's authority to make tariff concessions in exchange for concessions by other countries. It would shift from the President to the federal Tariff Commission final authority to raise tariffs against imports threatening substantial harm to American industry.

Threat To Allies

It was the latter provision Eisenhower said would damage the trade program beyond repair—and possibly force America's free world partners into economic dependence on the Communists.

Republicans and Democrats demanding stronger protection for domestic industries are backing the substitute. Principally, they represent textile, coal, oil and mineral producing areas feeling the pinch of competitive imports.

In this battle, Eisenhower has the support of both the Republican and Democratic leadership of the House and the 18-7 backing of its Ways and Means Committee.

Adams' Boston Hotel Bills Paid By Industrialist

WASHINGTON (AP) — House probers produced evidence Tuesday that a Boston industrialist paid almost $2,000 in hotel bills last four years for Sherman Adams, President Eisenhower's right hand man.

And the investigators' counsel asserted that the industrialist, Bernard Goldfine, was said to have received special treatment from two federal agencies.

Hotel records read at a House Commerce subcommittee hearing listed Adams and his wife as frequent guests in suites costing from $37 to $65 a day at the Sheraton Plaza Hotel in Boston. Testimony was the hotel had a ledger notation to charge Adams' bill to Goldfine.

There was no immediate comment from Adams. The White House said he was not in Washington

Goldfine's lawyer, Roger Robb, called testimony about the bills a smear. He contended Adams' name was being brought into the hearing in an effort to force out Goldfine's financial records.

The House group is investigating the federal regulatory agencies to see how well they have been carrying out their jobs. The group has aired allegations that the Federal Communications Commission and some of the other independent and quasijudicial agencies have been subjected to pressure from interests they are supposed to regulate and from other branches of the government.

Tuesday's testimony by Francis X. McLaughlin, a subcommittee staff investigator, was designed to back up the group's contention that a look at the records of Goldfine's various companies is essential in its inquiry.

Chairman Oren Harris (D-Ark) said evidence concerning the hotel bills was sufficient to show the need for the records.

Robert W. Lishman, subcommittee counsel, added that the congressmen had received allegations that Goldfine received preferential treatment from two federal agencies—the Securities and Exchange Commission and the Federal Trade Commission — by virtue of a close friendship with Adams.

'Brass' At Odds On Timing, Aim Of Moon Shots

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The Air Force will shoot at the moon three times this year, its chief of research and development said Tuesday. But a disagreement developed promptly between him and the Pentagon's over-all space boss on the timing of the project—and the aim.

Attempts to hit the moon will be made in August, September and October with a modified missile designed to "give some indication of its arrival," Lt. Gen. S. E. Anderson told a news conference.

"We have talked about a lot of dates," said Roy W. Johnson, director of the Defense Department's Advanced Research Projects Agency. "Right now it's touch and go whether we can do it that early. No final decision has been made.

"But," Johnson told the Milwaukee Journal by telephone from Washington, "you can categorically deny that there will be an attempt to hit the moon.

"There will be no attempt to make a direct impact. They will try to orbit the moon at best.

"At worst, they hope to get around the moon once. They may find out what the back of the moon looks like."

An aide to Gen. Anderson said that there would be no comment on Johnson's statement, and that "everything now will have to come out of the Pentagon."

At Least 50 Persons Hurt At El Dorado

Tornado Smashes Over 100 Houses, Guard Unit Called

EL DORADO, Kan. (AP)— A tornado slashed through the southwest edge of El Dorado late Tuesday, smashing over 100 homes, killing at least nine persons and injuring at least 50, the Kansas Highway Patrol said.

The twister hit at 5:45 p.m. Another struck at 6:25 p.m. at the little community of Pontiac seven miles east and north of El Dorado but no damage was reported from that one.

Ambulances were called from surrounding towns and the National Guard unit from Augusta, Kan., was summoned to help victims of the El Dorado tornado.

The hospital here was filled with injured and an appeal was sent to Wichita, Kan., for more hospital beds.

Highway patrol cars rushed into the stricken area and helped escort ambulances to the hospital through gathering crowds of spectators.

Girl Sees Funnel Strike

Nancy Kerschner, secretary for radio station KBTO, said she saw the funnel strike twice within half a mile of her home.

"It hit the Oil Hill district southwest of town then skipped into the thickly settled residential section," she said.

"I didn't realize at first that it was a tornado because it was a pale gray color instead of the black I had been told tornadoes always looked.

"My mother wanted me to go with her to the storm cellar, but I stayed and watched. Father and I went over afterward and saw the smashed houses. It was pretty bad."

The tornado here was one of several sighted in this area.

Special Storm Warning

El Dorado has a population of about 12,000 and is 35 miles northeast of Wichita in southeast Kansas.

The weather bureau in Kansas City issued a special storm warning for severe thunderstorms and possible tornadoes 60 miles on either side of a line from Dodge City, in southwest Kansas, to Butler, just across the Kansas line in west central Missouri.

Four main power lines were reported down in and around El Dorado.

A severe hail and rain storm struck Emporia, about 65 miles northeast of El Dorado in east central Kansas, and hail stones up to four inches in diameter were reported. An inch of rain fell in about 30 minutes. More than 400 panes of glass were shattered in a greenhouse.

British Leader, Dulles Air New 'Marshall Plan'

WASHINGTON (AP) — British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and Secretary of State Dulles conferred for 2½ hours Tuesday, chiefly about new ways to help needy nations.

"We had very good talks," Macmillan told reporters at the State Department. He added:

Macmillan left the State Department for the British embassy to prepare for a White House "working dinner," where the chief topic was reported to be the question of suspension of nuclear tests.

The chief clue to the dinner topic was the line-up of guests. The White House has been maintaining a tight blanket of secrecy about subjects under discussion. But both Lewis L. Strauss and Sir Edwin Plowden, atomic chiefs in the two countries, were on the dinner guest list.

Dulles told his news conference, prior to meeting Macmillan, that economic matters were uppermost on Tuesday's schedule.

A key plan before them, it was learned, proposes a kind of multination Marshall Plan.

The United States, Britain, West Germany and other Western nations would set up a fund under this plan. Long-term, easy-pay loans would be made from it to underdeveloped countries.

Dulles Declares:

Any Ban On A-Tests Must Include China

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower proposed Tuesday to open nuclear test talks with the Soviet Union at Geneva on July 1. Secretary of State Dulles said any agreement to halt testing would have to cover Communist China as well as the Soviet Union.

The official injection of the Red China issue raised potentially great difficulties in the way of negotiating a test ban. Dulles himself told a news conference Communist China "doesn't seem to want to have outsiders in its territory." Red China is not known to have developed nuclear weapons.

Eisenhower made his proposal for the date, place and makeup of scientific talks on policing any test suspension agreement in a letter to Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev. The letter was made public by the White House.

Accepting earlier proposals made by Khrushchev, Eisenhower said scientific experts on "our side" would come from the United States, Britain and France and "on your side" from Russia, Czechoslovakia and Poland.

He said the discussions should begin about July 1, be held in Geneva, and be devoted to studying "the possibility of detecting violation of a possible agreement on suspension of nuclear tests."

Dulles met reporters in his weekly news conference shortly after the letter was made public. He told them international inspection posts to police a test suspension agreement would probably be required in a number of areas of the world such as the Communist-controlled mainland of China, the Pacific islands, Australia, and the Sahara Desert.

He had gotten this estimate of requirements, he said, from the scientific experts working on the problem, with whom he reported he had talked only a few days ago.

German Reds Deny U.S. Fliers Held As Spies

BERLIN (AP)—Red-ruled East Germany Tuesday night disavowed any intention of bringing spy charges against nine U.S. Army helicopter men stranded in the Communist zone.

The Defense Ministry implied in a statement that the only charge involved in the case of the straying helicopter is violation of East German air space.

It rapped the ministry's official newspaper Volksarmee and said an editor had been disciplined for printing a hint that the eight officers and sergeant who made a forced landing after crossing the Iron Curtain in a storm Saturday might be treated as spies.

"Such a combination is wrong and misleading," the ministry said.

The repudiation came a few hours after Secretary of State Dulles announced in Washington the United States would deal with the East Germans if necessary to obtain the Americans' release. But he told a news conference this would carry no implication of recognition.

The Soviet Union, to whom American authorities first appealed, have sought to use the case to needle the United States into recognizing East Germany's Red government. A Soviet Embassy spokesman here insisted U.S. officials ask the East Germans directly for their release.

The Dulles' announcement and the East German statement seem to open the way for a settlement if and when negotiations can be opened between East Germans and American officials.

The United States has repeatedly emphasized it will not recognize the regime and insists on free elections for a unified Germany.

Dulles' statement caught State Department officials here by surprise. U.S. authorities had been operating with strict instructions to have no verbal or written dealings with the satellite regime.

Turk Cypriots Attack Stores

Turkish Cypriot crowds, given an hour free from curfew to do their marketing, looted Greek shops and stores in the latest outbreak.

They stormed into Nicosia's market place, battered down shuttered doors and made off with armloads of foods and goods.

It was the fourth consecutive day of rioting and violence on this British-run East Mediterranean island. Six persons have been killed and scores injured. The flareup has put new pressure on the relations of Britain, Greece and Turkey, all partners in NATO.

British gov. Sir Hugh Foot declared security forces will take every necessary step to bring the communal strife to an end.

"The government will not hesitate to prevent a renewal of violence," Foot said.

Red China Expected To Free Two Priests

HONG KONG (AP) — Reliable sources say the last two American Roman Catholic priests still in jail in Red China are expected to be released in Shanghai next Saturday or Sunday.

They are the Rev. Joseph P. McCormack, of the Maryknoll order, Ossining, N.Y., and the Rev. John P. Wagner of Pittsburgh, Pa. and Chicago, Ill.

Both were arrested on charges of spying June 15, 1953 and were given five-year sentences.

In addition to the two priests, four other Americans are still in jail in Red China.

Indiana Faces Major Floods

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Disaster crews manned the levees to fight the worst flood since 1950 along the middle Wabash River Tuesday, Indiana's third straight day of violent storms and cloudbursts.

Dozens of families fled their homes in the Wabash Valley from Wabash and Marion west to Lafayette, and serious flooding was forecast as far downstream as Terre Haute and Merom.

Flood stages almost as high as in 1950 were expected by Wednesday on the upper reaches of the White River's west fork at Muncie and Anderson, but minor flooding was forecast at Indianapolis and downstream.

Fifty National Guard infantrymen were ordered out to fight a Deer Creek levee break at Delphi, where 25 families got out ahead of the flood.

Fifty families were being evacuated from their home on the south side of Wabash, where a crest 10 feet above flood stage was forecast for Wednesday.

22 Survive Ditching Of Burning Airliner

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — An Argentine airliner with three engines on fire ditched in the surf near a Brazilian island Tuesday. All 22 aboard leaped out and waded ashore.

As they raced up the beach away from danger, the plane exploded and burned in the shallows.

UAW Threatens Strike Action Against Chrysler

DETROIT (AP) — The United Auto Workers Tuesday raised a threat of strike action against Chrysler Corp.

Strike talk cropped up as an unauthorized walkout of 400 assembly line workers resulted in Chrysler closing down its Dodge truck plant.

UAW Vice President Norman Matthews announced that a strike vote will be taken among 4,000 members of UAW Local 51 at the Plymouth engine and assembly plants. No date has been set for the vote.

Strike action, however, would require approval of the union's international executive board.

Some 500,000 UAW members have been working without contracts at Chrysler, General Motors and Ford for the past 10 days. UAW President Walter P. Reuther has announced a no-strike policy pending further negotiations on new contracts.

But Matthews indicated an exception might be made in the union's current dispute with Chrysler over rules limiting the activities of local stewards and shop committeemen.

Matthews joined Don Viano, president of Local 51, in a statement announcing that members of the local had authorized a referendum or strike action. They described his as "a direct outgrowth of Chrysler's arrogance at the bargaining table." They said, "the corporation wanted to operate without a contract so now it must bear the consequences."

The statement by Matthews and Viano was issued by Art Hughes, UAW administrative assistant, at resumption of bargaining talks with Chrysler Tuesday afternoon.

FHA Record Broken

WASHINGTON (AP)—A monthly record of 90,007 home mortgage insurance applications was set in May, the Federal Housing Administration announced Tuesday.

The previous high was 89,764 in May of 1950 which was the biggest housing year in history.

Lebanon Watchdog Plan Backed By U.S., Britain

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) —Neutral Sweden proposed Tuesday that the U. N. Security Council urgently dispatch a watchdog commission to strife-torn Lebanon to guard against outside aid to Lebanese rebels.

The United States and Britain endorsed the proposal and called for immediate action by the 11-nation Council. Lebanon has accused the United Arab Republic of "massive interference" in its internal affairs. The U.A.R. has denied it.

The Soviet Union, which could kill the Swedish proposal by a veto, said it would need at least 24 hours to consult with Moscow.

Under the Swedish proposal U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold would determine the size and composition of the watchdog group. He would arrange for its departure to the scene.

U. S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge told the Council:

"The most constructive thing the Security Council can do would be to get the United Nations representatives to the border of Lebanon to assure that no activities of the nature complained about by the representative of Lebanon are carried on.

"The representative of Lebanon has conveyed the urgency of the situation in his country. The Swedish resolution is a useful attempt to meet this pressing issue."

The move came as Lebanon's Charles Malik informed the Council that the situation in his country had deteriorated considerably in the last 24 hours.

Nuclear Blast Set Off By U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The fifth announced nuclear detonation in this year's test series in the mid-Pacific took place at 12:30 p.m. EST Tuesday, the government announced.

The joint announcement by the Atomic Energy Commission and the Defense Department said merely:

"A nuclear test detonation took place at 5:30 a.m., June 11, 1958, Eniwetok time (12:30 p.m., June 10, 1958, EST) at the Bikini atoll. The test is part of the Hardtack nuclear weapons test series under way at the Eniwetok proving ground."

The first announced test in the series, officially designated "Hardtack" was officially confirmed May 7 after Rep. Charles O. Porter (D-Ore) made public the April 28 explosion.

The second announced test shot was May 11, and the third May 12, the fourth May 25.

The AEC and the Pentagon said at the start of this year's nuclear tests that some of the detonations would be announced.

Rights Agency Orders Three-Prong Probe

WASHINGTON (AP)—The federal Civil Rights Commission Tuesday directed an immediate inquiry into three broad fields of civil rights — voting, education, and housing.

It put off a decision whether to investigate alleged mistreatment of Negroes at or near Dawson, Ga., by police officers, pending receipt of complaints.

Gordon M. Tiffany, commission staff director, said the fact-finding inquiry would be conducted in conjunction with advisory committees in the various states.

At Least 50 Persons Hurt At El Dorado

Tornado Smashes Over 100 Houses, Guard Unit Called

EL DORADO, Kan. (AP)— A tornado slashed through the southwest edge of El Dorado late Tuesday, smashing over 100 homes, killing at least nine persons and injuring at least 50, the Kansas Highway Patrol said.

The twister hit at 5:45 p.m. Another struck at 6:25 p.m. at the little community of Pontiac seven miles east and north of El Dorado but no damage was reported from that one.

Ambulances were called from surrounding towns and the National Guard unit from Augusta, Kan., was summoned to help victims of the El Dorado tornado.

The hospital here was filled with injured and an appeal was sent to Wichita, Kan., for more hospital beds.

Highway patrol cars rushed into the stricken area and helped escort ambulances to the hospital through gathering crowds of spectators.

Girl Sees Funnel Strike

Nancy Kerschner, secretary for radio station KBTO, said she saw the funnel strike twice within half a mile of her home.

"It hit the Oil Hill district southwest of town then skipped into the thickly settled residential section," she said.

"I didn't realize at first that it was a tornado because it was a pale gray color instead of the black I had been told tornadoes always looked.

"My mother wanted me to go with her to the storm cellar, but I stayed and watched. Father and I went over afterward and saw the smashed houses. It was pretty bad."

The tornado here was one of several sighted in this area.

Special Storm Warning

El Dorado has a population of about 12,000 and is 35 miles northeast of Wichita in southeast Kansas.

The weather bureau in Kansas City issued a special storm warning for severe thunderstorms and possible tornadoes 60 miles on either side of a line from Dodge City, in southwest Kansas, to Butler, just across the Kansas line in west central Missouri.

Four main power lines were reported down in and around El Dorado.

A severe hail and rain storm struck Emporia, about 65 miles northeast of El Dorado in east central Kansas, and hail stones up to four inches in diameter were reported. An inch of rain fell in about 30 minutes. More than 400 panes of glass were shattered in a greenhouse.

British Leader, Dulles Air New 'Marshall Plan'

WASHINGTON (AP) — British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and Secretary of State Dulles conferred for 2½ hours Tuesday, chiefly about new ways to help needy nations.

"We had very good talks," Macmillan told reporters at the State Department. He added:

Macmillan left the State Department for the British embassy to prepare for a White House "working dinner," where the chief topic was reported to be the question of suspension of nuclear tests.

The chief clue to the dinner topic was the line-up of guests. The White House has been maintaining a tight blanket of secrecy about subjects under discussion. But both Lewis L. Strauss and Sir Edwin Plowden, atomic chiefs in the two countries, were on the dinner guest list.

Dulles told his news conference, prior to meeting Macmillan, that economic matters were uppermost on Tuesday's schedule.

A key plan before them, it was learned, proposes a kind of multi-nation Marshall Plan.

The United States, Britain, West Germany and other Western nations would set up a fund under this plan. Long-term, easy-pay loans would be made from it to underdeveloped countries.

Dulles Declares:

Any Ban On A-Tests Must Include China

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower proposed Tuesday to open nuclear test talks with the Soviet Union at Geneva on July 1. Secretary of State Dulles said any agreement to halt testing would have to cover Communist China as well as the Soviet Union.

The official injection of the Red China issue raised potentially great difficulties in the way of negotiating a test ban. Dulles himself told a news conference Communist China "doesn't seem to want to have outsiders in its territory." Red China is not known to have developed nuclear weapons.

Eisenhower made his proposal for the date, place and makeup of scientific talks on policing any test suspension agreement in a letter to Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev. The letter was made public by the White House.

Accepting earlier proposals made by Khrushchev, Eisenhower said scientific experts on "our side" would come from the United States, Britain and France and "on your side" from Russia, Czechoslovakia and Poland.

He said the discussions should begin about July 1, be held in Geneva, and be devoted to studying "the possibility of detecting violation of a possible agreement on suspension of nuclear tests."

Dulles met reporters in his weekly news conference shortly after the letter was made public. He told them international inspection posts to police a test suspension agreement would probably be required in a number of areas of the world such as the Communist-controlled mainland of China, the Pacific islands, Australia, and the Sahara Desert.

He had gotten this estimate of requirements, he said, from the scientific experts working on the problem, with whom he reported he had talked only a few days ago.

German Reds Deny U.S. Fliers Held As Spies

BERLIN (AP)—Red-ruled East Germany Tuesday night disavowed any intention of bringing spy charges against nine U.S. Army helicopter men stranded in the Communist zone.

The Defense Ministry implied in a statement that the only charge involved in the case of the straying helicopter is violation of East German air space.

It rapped the ministry's official newspaper Volksarmee and said an editor had been disciplined for printing a hint that the eight officers and sergeant who made a forced landing after crossing the Iron Curtain in a storm Saturday might be treated as spies.

"Such a combination is wrong and misleading," the ministry said.

The repudiation came a few hours after Secretary of State Dulles announced in Washington the United States would deal with the East Germans if necessary to obtain the Americans' release. But he told a news conference this would carry no implication of recognition.

The Soviet Union, to whom American authorities first appealed, have sought to use the case to needle the United States into recognizing East Germany's Red government. A Soviet Embassy spokesman here insisted U.S. officials ask the East Germans directly for their release.

The Dulles' announcement and the East German statement seem to open the way for a settlement if and when negotiations can be opened between East Germans and American officials.

The United States has repeatedly emphasized it will not recognize the regime and insists on free elections for a unified Germany.

Dulles' statement caught State Department officials here by surprise. U.S. authorities had been operating with strict instructions to have no verbal or written dealings with the satellite regime.

'Brass' At Odds On Timing, Aim Of Moon Shots

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The Air Force will shoot at the moon three times this year, its chief of research and development said Tuesday. But a disagreement developed promptly between him and the Pentagon's over-all space boss on the timing of the project—and the aim.

Attempts to hit the moon will be made in August, September and October with a modified missile designed to "give some indication of its arrival," Lt. Gen. S. E. Anderson told a news conference.

"We have talked about a lot of dates," said Roy W. Johnson, director of the Defense Department's Advanced Research Projects Agency. "Right now it's touch and go whether we can do it that early. No final decision has been made.

"But," Johnson told the Milwaukee Journal by telephone from Washington, "you can categorically deny that there will be an attempt to hit the moon.

"There will be no attempt to make a direct impact. They will try to orbit the moon at best.

"At worst, they hope to get around the moon once. They may find out what the back of the moon looks like."

An aide to Gen. Anderson said that there would be no comment on Johnson's statement, and that "everything now will have to come out of the Pentagon."

CHICAGO (AP)—The 1933 graduating class of the University of Chicago is getting its yearbook 25 years late.

The depression kept the class from publishing one at graduation. It will be issued at the 25th reunion of the class Friday.

Nuclear Blast Set Off By U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The fifth announced nuclear detonation in this year's test series in the mid-Pacific took place at 12:30 p.m. EST Tuesday, the government announced.

The joint announcement by the Atomic Energy Commission and the Defense Department said merely:

"A nuclear test detonation took place at 5:30 a.m., June 11, 1958, Eniwetok time (12:30 p.m., June 10, 1958, EST) at the Bikini atoll. The test is part of the Hardtack nuclear weapons test series under way at the Eniwetok proving ground."

The first announced test in the series, officially designated "Hardtack" was officially confirmed May 7 after Rep. Charles O. Porter (D-Ore) made public the April 28 explosion.

The second announced test shot was May 11, and the third May 12, the fourth May 25.

The AEC and the Pentagon said at the start of this year's nuclear tests that some of the detonations would be announced.

Indiana Faces Major Floods

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Disaster crews manned the levees to fight the worst flood since 1950 along the middle Wabash River Tuesday, Indiana's third straight day of violent storms and cloudbursts.

Dozens of families fled their homes in the Wabash Valley from Wabash and Marion west to Lafayette, and serious flooding was forecast as far downstream as Terre Haute and Merom.

Flood stages almost as high as in 1950 were expected by Wednesday on the upper reaches of the White River's west fork at Muncie and Anderson, but minor flooding was forecast at Indianapolis and downstream.

Fifty National Guard infantrymen were ordered out to fight a Deer Creek levee break at Delphi, where 25 families got out ahead of the flood.

Fifty families were being evacuated from their home on the south side of Wabash, where a crest 10 feet above flood stage was forecast for Wednesday.

22 Survive Ditching Of Burning Airliner

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — An Argentine airliner with three engines on fire ditched in the surf near a Brazilian island Tuesday. All 22 aboard leaped out and waded ashore.

As they raced up the beach away from danger, the plane exploded and burned in the shallows.

UAW Threatens Strike Action Against Chrysler

DETROIT (AP) — The United Auto Workers Tuesday raised a threat of strike action against Chrysler Corp.

UAW Vice President Norman Matthews announced that a strike vote will be taken among 4,000 members of UAW Local 51 at the Plymouth engine and assembly plants. No date has been set for the vote.

Strike action, however, would require approval of the union's international executive board.

Some 500,000 UAW members have been working without contracts at Chrysler, General Motors and Ford for the past 10 days. UAW President Walter P. Reuther has announced a no-strike policy pending further negotiations on new contracts.

But Matthews indicated an exception might be made in the union's current dispute with Chrysler over rules limiting the activities of local stewards and shop committeemen.

Matthews joined Don Viano, president of Local 51, in a statement announcing that members of the local had authorized a referendum or strike action. They described his as "a direct outgrowth of Chrysler's arrogance at the bargaining table." They said, "the corporation wanted to operate without a contract so now it must bear the consequences."

The statement by Matthews and Viano was issued by Art Hughes, UAW administrative assistant, at resumption of bargaining talks with Chrysler Tuesday afternoon.

Turk Cypriots Attack Stores

They stormed into Nicosia's market place, battered down shuttered doors and made off with armloads of foods and goods.

It was the fourth consecutive day of rioting and violence on this British-run East Mediterranean island. Six persons have been killed and scores injured. The flareup has put new pressure on the relations of Britain, Greece and Turkey, all partners in NATO.

British gov. Sir Hugh Foot declared security forces will take every necessary step to bring the communal strife to an end.

"The government will not hesitate to prevent a renewal of violence," Foot said.

Red China Expected To Free Two Priests

HONG KONG (AP) — Reliable sources say the last two American Roman Catholic priests still in jail in Red China are expected to be released in Shanghai next Saturday or Sunday.

They are the Rev. Joseph P. McCormack, of the Maryknoll order, Ossining, N.Y., and the Rev. John P. Wagner of Pittsburgh, Pa. and Chicago, Ill.

Both were arrested on charges of spying June 15, 1953 and were given five-year sentences.

In addition to the two priests, four other Americans are still in jail in Red China.

Lebanon Watchdog Plan Backed By U.S., Britain

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) —Neutral Sweden proposed Tuesday that the U. N. Security Council urgently dispatch a watchdog commission to strife-torn Lebanon to guard against outside aid to Lebanese rebels.

The United States and Britain endorsed the proposal and called for immediate action by the 11-nation Council. Lebanon has accused the United Arab Republic of "massive interference" in its internal affairs. The U.A.R. has denied it.

The Soviet Union, which could kill the Swedish proposal by a veto, said it would need at least 24 hours to consult with Moscow.

Under the Swedish proposal U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold would determine the size and composition of the watchdog group. He would arrange for its departure to the scene.

U. S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge told the Council:

"The most constructive thing the Security Council can do would be to get the United Nations representatives to the border of Lebanon to assure that no activities of the nature complained about by the representative of Lebanon are carried on.

"The representative of Lebanon has conveyed the urgency of the situation in his country. The Swedish resolution is a useful attempt to meet this pressing issue."

The move came as Lebanon's Charles Malik informed the Council that the situation in his country had deteriorated considerably in the last 24 hours.

Rights Agency Orders Three-Prong Probe

WASHINGTON (AP)—The federal Civil Rights Commission Tuesday directed an immediate inquiry into three broad fields of civil rights — voting, education, and housing.

It put off a decision whether to investigate alleged mistreatment of Negroes at or near Dawson, Ga., by police officers, pending receipt of complaints.

Gordon M. Tiffany, commission staff director, said the fact-finding inquiry would be conducted in conjunction with advisory committees in the various states.

Senate Bill To Curb Union Corruption Runs Into More Republican Criticism

WASHINGTON (AP) — Backers of a Senate labor bill aimed at curbing union corruption ran into mounting Republican criticism Tuesday that it was completely ineffective to do the job.

The sponsors, Sens. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) and Irving M. Ives (R-NY), defended their plan as approved by the Senate Labor Committee. They said sudden administration opposition endangers chances that any labor bill will clear Congress this year.

GOP leaders of Congress discussed the bill at the White House with President Eisenhower and Undersecretary of Labor James T. O'Connell.

Senate GOP Leader William F. Knowland of California said afterward he believes most Senate Republicans will back what he termed necessary and desirable changes.

Secretary of Labor James Mitchell led off administration opposition in a statement Monday night saying the Kennedy - Ives bill fails to meet Eisenhower's recommendations and would weaken rather than strengthen present legal provisions aimed at union corruption.

Kennedy said Mitchell's comments were "completely inaccurate and irresponsible" and Ives said they were "uncalled for, utterly so." Mitchell is in Geneva attending a meeting. His statement was released through his office here.

Kennedy expressed doubt Mitchell could have been too familiar with the bill's terms. He said its final form was approved only last Friday and Mitchell already was in Europe. He said the Labor Department solicitor, Stuart Rothman, seemed to be satisfied with the bill.

But a department spokesman said the Labor Committee had largely ignored suggestions for changes urged by the department. He said the committee had not consulted the department since June 1. Rothman, he said, only chatted informally with Kennedy.

Mitchell's strong blast at the bill had been unexpected. His aides said he felt the bill was far too weak to correct union abuses disclosed in hearings before the Senate Rackets Committee headed by Sen. John L. McClellan (D - Ark). McClellan has warmly endorsed the bill. Prospects for House action are regarded as dim.

Nixon, Weeks See Economic Slump Ending

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Nixon and Secretary of Commerce Weeks talked optimistically Tuesday about prospects for an end to the recession.

Their cheerfulness, expressed in speeches, coincided with:

1. Some encouraging reports from general contractors on the construction business.

2. An announcement from the Federal Housing Administration that applications for home mortgage insurance hit a record in May. The total was 90,007 and it compared with a previous high of 89,764 in May of 1950.

Weeks told the National Conference on Weights and Measures that recent business statistics look better than at any time since the economic slump began last year.

"The field day of the hand-wringing pessimist is about over . . . the outlook is bright for better times later this year," Weeks added.

Nixon's audience was the Associated General Contractors of America. He took note of reports that construction is picking up.

"When construction begins to move up it is a good sign that any economic downturn a country happens to find itself in has reached the end—that a leveling off process is beginning and a turning up process is on the way," Nixon said.

Fred W. Heldenfels Jr., president of the association, reported on a telegraphic survey among contractor groups across the nation.

He said the survey shows prospects for the rest of 1958 are considered better than normal in a majority of places.

Baltimore Firm Gets "Mailster" Contract

WASHINGTON (AP) — Eshelman Motors Corp. of Baltimore will be awarded a $2,644,384 contract to build 3,400 small cars for handling mail, Sen. J. Glenn Beall (R-Md) said Tuesday.

Beall said the last hurdle was cleared today when the Small Business Administration issued a certificate of competency to the firm.

The Eshelman firm was the lowest qualified bidder for the Post Office Department "mailsters" but Beall said the certificate was necessary before the contract could be awarded by the General Services Administration.

Gasoline Tank Truck Explodes Near Uniontown

UNIONTOWN, Pa. (AP) — A tank truck loaded with 1,000 gallons of gasoline and 85 gallons of oil exploded with a roar Tuesday seconds after its driver fled.

As he ran alongside U.S. 40 five miles east of Uniontown 37-year-old Edwin Wolfe of Masontown, Pa. waved frantically and halted oncoming motorists. State Police said Wolfe's warning undoubtedly prevented a tragedy.

Wolfe had driven to the top of Summit Mountain and was beginning to descend the other side when he smelled smoke.

"I stopped and got out and saw flames along the front and side of the tank," he said. "I took one look and ran."

Police said the cause of the fire leading to the explosion could not be determined.

President Acts To Revive Good Neighbor Policy

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP)— President Eisenhower Tuesday urged better planning to promote the common interests and welfare of the Americas.

In a warm personal letter to Brazilian President Juscelino Kubitschek, he called for a joint U. S.-Brazilian effort to produce "a reaffirmation of devotion to Pan-Americanism."

It came as an aftermath of attacks on Vice President Nixon in some countries on his recent South American tour and as a prelude to Secretary of State Dulles' August visit to Brazil. Nixon did not visit Brazil.

Although Eisenhower's call appeared to be a revival of what was known in past administrations as good neighbor policy, it drew a cool first reception from some Latin - American diplomats here.

Others also indicated they felt their nations were slighted and that it would have been better if Eisenhower's suggestions had been addressed to all Latin-American nations.

"Despite the talk of approaching other Latin-American nations, it looks like we are being left out," said one official.

Menshikov Sees Communism Eventual Victor

BALTIMORE (AP) — Soviet Ambassador Mikhail A. Menshikov predicted Tuesday night that communism will outlive democracy. But in the meantime, the two should be good friends, he said.

Menshikov spoke at a jammed annual dinner of the Bar Assn. of Baltimore City while about 150 pickets, peacefully circled the block with placards and flags protesting the Russian's appearance.

"We believe," said Menshikov, "that in the long run socialism, communism will win. But it doesn't contradict to the principal of peaceful coexistence of states with different social systems . . .

"Admittedly, there is no easy road to the settlement of controversial problems and lasting peace. And we cannot shut our eyes to the presence of a constant, continuing dangerous tension today, to the stockpiling of hydrogen bombs, to the existence of military alliances and blocs, to the establishment of military bases on foreign territories and the attempts to create rocket-launching sites in some Western countries.

But, he added, "if we weigh all the facts and consider all the factors, there can be only one conclusion: that peaceful coexistence between the two different systems is the only possible answer for the world."

Menshikov appeared entirely at ease during the Baltimore visit. He was ushered by top Baltimore police officials into the hotel (Lord Baltimore) in late afternoon while the first handful of pickets were occupied on the other side of the building.

He talked briefly to the press before the dinner meeting.

No, he knew nothing about the American flyers down in East Germany. "Haven't looked at a paper today."

Did he have any opinion on the pickets parading outside? "I just don't take them too seriously. I've found they don't represent the true feelings of the American people."

What do you consider the first concrete steps to better understanding? "Stop unilaterally the testing of nuclear weapons. That's the first step."

On the sidewalk outside, the picketing progressed peacefully. About 150 policemen stood by to watch for any disturbances. Around the block circled a float with would-be political prisoners behind barricades.

Sen. Beall Favors Home Loan Plan

U. S. Senator J. Glenn Beall wrote the Allegany County Board of Commissioners yesterday that he has requested the Veterans Administration to designate the county a direct-loan area for home building loans for veterans.

The county commissioners some time ago adopted a resolution at the request of veterans organizations and local real estate dealers calling for the county being given the direct loan status.

Sen. Beall said he has wired Sumner G. Whittier, administrator of Veterans Affairs, asking that the direct-loan request be approved. The senator said he hoped to have a decision shortly in the matter and that he also hopes it will result in approval of the request.

Sunday Is Safety Contest Deadline

American women who plan and carry out traffic safety programs are eligible for nationwide awards totaling $3,500, according to the National Safety Council. These are the 1958 Carol Lane Awards, presented to the three individual women and three women's or parents' groups who, in the opinion of a board of judges, have developed and directed the most effective traffic safety programs between June 15, 1957 and June 15, 1958.

The deadline for entries is midnight June 15. The awards are administered by the National Safety Council through a grant from Shell Oil. They will be presented in October at the National Safety Congress in Chicago. Entries should be mailed to Alice Catherine Mills, National Safety Council, 425 North Michigan Avenue, Chicago.

Last year's individual winner was a Colorado woman who helped initiate statewide safety committees within county and local clubs of her state's Home Demonstration Council. An Ohio women's organization took honors by organizing a county safety committee.

Society Purchases Bibles

Father's Day gifts and Bibles for the junior class of the Sunday School were bought by the WSCS of Murley's Branch Church, following a Bible study course given by Mrs. Paul Robinette. Mrs. Eston Heavner conducted the business session. Roll call was answered with Bible verse. Plans also were formulated for a lawn festival at the church, July 26, at 6 p.m. A gift of $3 was sent to Japan.

A report was given by Mrs. Helen Wilson on the district meeting at Grace church. Mrs. Marshall Fletcher, Jr., and Mrs. Richard Yonker were received as new members. It was reported the May meeting was at the home of Mrs. Heavner, with Mrs. Paul Browning offering prayer and conducting the devotionals. Her theme was "The March of Mission Dollars." A piano and violin selection was played by Virginia and Patricia Heavner. A playlet was presented by Mrs. Heavner, Beverley Robinette and Virginia Heavner. The group sang, "Give Him the Glory," and "Speak To My Soul." A worship center was constructed around a Head of Christ, symbolizing life and faith.

A surprise stork shower was held for Mrs. Andrew Twigg. The June meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Justin Heavner. Mrs. Robinette led the devotions and completed the book study of "St. Mark, Disciple to such a Lord." Mrs. Homer Willison sang a song. Concluding the meeting, refreshments were served.

Rev., Mrs. Blevins Are Honored

Friends and neighbors of Flintstone Methodist Circuit attended a farewell party for Rev. and Mrs. Edward Blevins and daughter, Patricia. It was held in th Flintstone fire hall, in the form of a supper. Spring flowers were used in the decorations of the tables.

Besides individual cash gifts, each church of the circuit also contributed cash. Approximately 175 persons attended.

Phoebus Seen Staying In Race For Reelection

PRINCESS ANNE, Md. (AP)—All hands were agreed Tuesday that Harry T. Phoebus is going to stay in the race for reelection as state senator from Somerset County. That includes Phoebus.

Phoebus, candidate for his fourth straight term, proclaimed Saturday at the Republican state convention he would offer to withdraw if the party platform included a plank encouraging leasing of barren oyster bottoms.

The convention did.

Phoebus reiterated intentions to withdraw to the GOP Central Committee of his Somerset County.

He said Tuesday he hadn't done so yet, but "was writing it up."

However, he added that three of the four members of the committee "came to my house Sunday night and said it would be useless to submit my resignation because they wouldn't accept it."

The fourth member of the committee, Mrs. Virginia Bowland, asked about her attitude, replied "All I have to say is that he is not going to resign. It won't happen."

Mrs. Bowland received the most votes of seven candidates for the Republican committee. She said she had not been supported for the post by Phoebus.

Lloyd Simpkins, Democratic opponent of Phoebus in the November election, already had expressed belief "I don't believe that he has ever had a serious thought about withdrawing."

State Crops Spurred By Warm Weather

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) — The current warm weather was just what crop doctors ordered for Maryland farmers.

Last week's generally fair weather gave farmers a chance to catch up on field work but continued warmer weather was needed to spur crops along. It arrived this week.

Meanwhile, the University of Maryland Agricultural Extension Service reported that harvesting of green peas is well underway on the Eastern Shore and started this week in north central Maryland.

On the shore earliest tomato fields are beginning to set fruit. Watermelons and cucumbers are putting out runners.

Early corn is coming up and stands are generally good.

Pastures are reported the best in five years.

Barley harvesting is to start next week on both sides of Chesapeake Bay.

The Santa Maria largest of the three ships in which Columbus discovered America, was about 80 tons.

Macmillan Tells Hopkins Grads:

Peace In One Giant Stride Impossible

BALTIMORE (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Macmillan of Britain suggested Tuesday that world leaders could attain more progress toward peace by taking several baby steps instead of trying to make it in one giant stride.

He said it would be foolish to expect a summit conference of government heads to provide any lasting solutions.

Instead, he said, "if conditions are favorable and if the will is there they might make, first, a little progress here, and a little there and so bring us out of a condition of stalemate into one of negotiation."

Macmillan made his remarks in a commencement address before 7,000 persons at the Johns Hopkins University in north Baltimore.

He was introduced by President Eisenhower, who said Macmillan "is respected and admired in all the countries of the world that are permitted to know the facts of today's world and personalities."

The President and Macmillan were awarded honorary degrees by the President's brother, Milton S. Eisenhower, who is president of Johns Hopkins.

Eisenhower and Macmillan flew over from Washington and returned there by Army helicopter.

Plane Crash Survivor Leaves Hospital

BALTIMORE (AP) — Capt. Julius R. McCoy, the National Guard pilot whose jet trainer was in collision with an airliner three weeks ago, has left the U.S.Public Health Hospital.

The burns on the face and head of the 34-year-old pilot have healed but a few scars remain. His hands, which were the most severely burned part of his body, are still swathed in bandages.

Capt. McCoy will have to return for treatment occasionally but no skin grafts will be necessary, doctors said.

The Guard pilot, who was the only survivor of the mid-air crash at Brunswick, Md. which took 12 lives, does not know when he will be able to return to flying duty.

Man Who Tried To Fool Police Faces Charges

A Severn, Md., man, who attempted to fool local police authorities, will be returned to Cumberland today to face four motor vehicle charges and a criminal court.

Donald W. Mason, assistant state's attorney, issued the five warrants for Donald Lee Barker, 29, charging him with reckless driving, operating a motor vehicle under the influence of liquor or drug, failing to have a registration card in his possession, operating a motor vehicle on a revoked license and providing false information to police authorities.

He will be tried today at 2 p. m. before Magistrate Morris Baron in Trial Magistrates Court.

The case first developed on March 1 when City Police Officer James Bolyard apprehended a man who gave his name as Charles P. Barker of Severn, Md. He was charged with driving under the influence, reckless driving, operating without a registration card and operating without a license.

Since the man was without a license, police could only accept his word as to his name and address, Mason noted.

The man was taken to Police Headquarters where he posted $225 bond for a hearing in Trial Magistrate Court. Six days later he forfeited the bond in Trial Magistrate Court.

After the Department of Motor Vehicles of Maryland was notified of "Charles P. Barker" convictions, they in turn notified "Charles P. Barker" that his license had been revoked.

Charles Barker then informed the department that he had not been in Cumberland, and couldn't be guilty of the motor vehicle violations.

Officer Bolyard began an investigation of the case, along with the Maryland State Police, and after he received a picture and description of Donald Lee Barker it was determined that it was Donald and not his brother, Charles, who had committed the violations.

The State's Attorney's office then issued five warrants against Donald Lee Barker who was apprehended Monday by the Anne Arundel County Sheriff Office.

A representative of the local sheriff office will leave today to return the man to Cumberland, to face the five charges.

Mason pointed out yesterday that the man has a motor vehicle record dating back to 1953 that reveals 10 convictions, including a previous charge of driving under the influence and operating on a revoked license.

Isaac Love New Member Of CS Board

Isaac T. Love, a Lonaconing merchant, has been named a member of the Allegany County Civil Service Commission to fill the post vacated by the resignation of J. Glenn Beall Jr.

Love has been active in Republican party circles and is a member of the Lonaconing Republican Club. He operates a store in the Georges Creek community.

Beall resigned after he was named chairman of the Allegany County Republican Committee recently. He stated at that time he felt it was not proper to hold both positions.

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners appointed Love to the position yesterday with Commissioners William A. Wilson and James Orr voting for the action. Commissioner Charles N. Wilkinson was not present.

Rev. George S. Widmyer, pastor of Potomac Park Evangelical United Brethren, and Claude Yoder appeared before the board to request that a drain pipe be placed under the road leading to the community playground. They also asked that the baseball field be graded.

Chapman was authorized to do this work for the community.

LeRoy Mingle appeared before the board to ask that something be done about a ditch along a road in the Union Grove section. The matter was referred to Chapman.

Harold C. Wickard, who resides on Helman Drive in LaVale, appeared before the board to ask that a number of "pot holes" in the road be eliminated. Chapman said the drive is not in the county system.

Gas Firm To Drill In W. Va.

Plans for building up gas supplies from West Virginia production have been announced by the local spokesman for Cumberland and Allegheny Gas Company. The utility will invest $300,000 in three separate projects.

District Manager C. C. Robbins said C&A has started drilling a $130,000 deep well into the Oriskany sands near Davis, in Tucker County.

In a few weeks, a second well, similar to the first, will be sunk about one-half mile north of the one underway. Cost of the proposed well is $140,000. Depending on the success of the first two, a third may be drilled in the latter part of 1958, he said.

A $30,000 4-inch gathering line will soon be laid from a successful shallow-well in Upshur County to carry that gas into C&A's main supply line. The producing well is located west of Volga. The pipeline will run 1.6 miles south to the Weston-Cumberland trunkline, the official said.

Both of the Tucker County wells are being drilled to a depth of about 8,000 feet, in sands considerably below the 3,500-4,000-foot formations currently providing the bulk of C&A's local gas production.

Robbins said his firm has a joint interest in four deep producing wells in Tucker County. They were drilled in the 1944-1951 period, and are still producing about 200,000 cubic feet of gas daily.

C&A owns the full rights to the two new wells, the manager said. A seismograph survey conducted in Tucker County last year laid the groundwork for the present drilling program there.

C&A will drill 14 shallow wells in 1958. Only one has been completed, the one being connected to the company's main supply network through the new gathering line.

Two of the other 13 wells are being drilled within one-half mile of the gathering line. Short extensions from the new carrier would move production from these wells, if successful, into the gathering line for immediate delivery into C&A's main supply network, the manager said.

Construction of the gathering line is scheduled for completion in July.

Foreman George Bailey of Buckhannon is supervising construction of the line and well-drilling operations throughout C&A's West Virginia operating area.

The well-drilling operations and gathering line construction is part of some $2,800,000 C&A will spend this year to bolster its gas supplies and improve its gas supply system and delivery network in Maryland and West Virginia, the official said.

Times-News Tour Will Visit Fair

Attendance at the Brussels World's Fair is running far ahead of estimates. More than a million paid admissions a week have been recorded for the first seven weeks for a total of over 8,000,000 to June 7.

Hotel, motel and rooming house accommodations are almost impossible to engage.

Up to 30 Times-News tourists, however, have no worries on this score as 15 twin-bed air conditioned rooms in Belgium's newest motel will be theirs when they arrive in Brussels theirs when they arrive in Brussels on Sunday, September 21, for a three-day stay. The reservations were made by tour director J. William Hunt and the Conlon Travel Agency in January before the modern motel was even completed. It is within walking distance of the fairgrounds.

Twenty-five of the 30 memberships available for the 1958 tour have been taken and the five remaining vacancies will be allotted on a "first come, first served" basis at the Conlon office, Pershing street.

This year's "double tour" starts in Washington August 31 (Sunday) and concludes there on Saturday, October 4.

In succession the Cumberland area group will visit Canada, Portugal, Spain, Italy, Austria, Germany, Belgium, Holland and Scotland. From Montreal to Lisbon will be by plane. The return trip will be from Glasgow to Quebec and Montreal by ship, the Empress of Britain, Canadian Pacific flagship. The sea voyage back will include a 1000-mile cruise through the Gulf of St. Lawrence and the St. Lawrence river past some of the grandest scenic country in Canada.

Frank Bachler, world famous Swiss guide (who speaks English and four other languages) will be in charge of all travel in Europe, meeting the Cumberland group at the airport in Lisbon and remaining with the tour until the ship is boarded September 27 in Glasgow.

This year's Times-News Tour actually includes two $900 tours for a cost only slightly more than $1200. Instead of four or five foreign countries, the Cumberlanders will visit nine. There will be welcome rest periods in Madrid, Rome and Vienna and six days of relaxation on board the Empress of Britain September 27 to October 3.

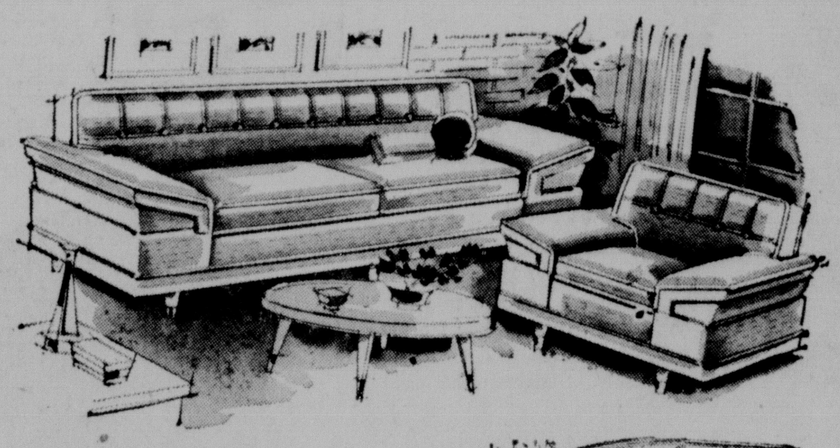

Complete details are available at the Conlon Travel Agency and reservations may still be made.

Man Who Tried To Fool Police Faces Charges

A Severn, Md., man, who attempted to fool local police authorities, will be returned to Cumberland today to face four motor vehicle charges and a criminal court.

Donald W. Mason, assistant state's attorney, issued the five warrants for Donald Lee Barker, 29, charging him with reckless driving, operating a motor vehicle under the influence of liquor or drug, failing to have a registration card in his possession, operating a motor vehicle on a revoked license and providing false information to police authorities.

He will be tried today at 2 p. m. before Magistrate Morris Baron in Trial Magistrates Court.

The case first developed on March 1 when City Police Officer James Bolyard apprehended a man who gave his name as Charles P. Barker of Severn, Md. He was charged with driving under the influence, reckless driving, operating without a registration card and operating without a license.

Since the man was without a license, police could only accept his word as to his name and address, Mason noted.

The man was taken to Police Headquarters where he posted $225 bond for a hearing in Trial Magistrate Court. Six days later he forfeited the bond in Trial Magistrate Court.

After the Department of Motor Vehicles of Maryland was notified of "Charles P. Barker" convictions, they in turn notified "Charles P. Barker" that his license had been revoked.

Charles Barker then informed the department that he had not been in Cumberland, and couldn't be guilty of the motor vehicle violations.

Officer Bolyard began an investigation of the case, along with the Maryland State Police, and after he received a picture and description of Donald Lee Barker it was determined that it was Donald and not his brother, Charles, who had committed the violations.

The State's Attorney's office then issued five warrants against Donald Lee Barker who was apprehended Monday by the Anne Arundel County Sheriff Office.

A representative of the local sheriff office will leave today to return the man to Cumberland, to face the five charges.

Mason pointed out yesterday that the man has a motor vehicle record dating back to 1953 that reveals 10 convictions, including a previous charge of driving under the influence and operating on a revoked license.

Wardensville Elects New Town Officials

The West Virginia town of Wardensville in Hardy County had a spirited election yesterday in which both the mayor and recorder were defeated for re-election and only two of the five incumbent councilmen were returned to office.

New two-year terms start July 1.

Much of the controversy concerned arguments that the town police had made the community a "speed trap." The rival factions were designated as the "in-towners" and the "out-of-towners" with the latter winning for the first time in years. Eighty-three voted and the West Virginia Blue Book lists the population at 171.

Rev. Gordon R. Zirkle was elected mayor decisively, receiving 52 votes to 31 for the incumbent, Otis Hines.

The complete but unofficial results of yesterday's election:

FOR MAYOR

Gordon K. Zirkle	52
Otis Hines	31

FOR RECORDER

Mrs. Madge Brooks	53
Mrs. Winnie P. Hines	30

FOR COUNCIL (Five Elected)

brief bit of confusion. There was a pause and Harrington began to move on to the nomination of the candidate for attorney general before Mahoney had said a word.

Others at the head table stopped Harrington and Mahoney was again recognized.

It was later explained that parliamentiarians had expressed doubt about the propriety of Mahoney's motion, also contained in his statement, to release his delegates and make the senatorial nomination unanimous.

But, proper or not, he did it and it was carried unanimously.

Butler Predicts Victory

In his keynote speech, Butler had told the delegates he was "firmly convinced that the Democratic party of Maryland stands on the threshold of its greatest victory since 1946." That was the last year the party elected a major statewide official, despite an 8-3 edge over Republicans in registered voters.

Only two years ago, commenting on the factional cleavages left by bitter Democratic primaries here, Butler had told a Salisbury meeting the Maryland party had an uncanny knack for "snatching defeat from the jaws of victory."

The National Party Chairman told the convention there were three principal reasons for an "irresistible and unmistakable Democratic surge" throughout the nation this year.

These, he said, were that the people have "had enough of Republican reassurance . . . and part-time leadership," that the party has "the candidates and the ideas equal to the challenge of the times," and that in Maryland, as throughout the nation, "it is more united than ever before."

Tawes Sees Unity, Victory

In accepting the nomination for governor, Tawes also repeated the unity-and-victory theme at which he and his three successful running mates had hammered during the primary campaign.

The Tawes speech overflowed with expressions of gratitude to party workers for their help ("nothing can make a man feel more humble") and of optimism toward the November elections ("today our golden opportunity is at hand").

In the speech, there was no mention of Republican Gov. McKeldin, who is not running this time. There was no criticism of the state administration.

This had been taken care of by William Preston Lane Jr., Maryland's last Democratic governor, whom McKeldin defeated in 1950.

Lane, placing Tawes' name in nomination, said that during McKeldin's eight years in office there "has gradually been unfolded a panorama of broken and unfulfilled promises."

He then quoted from a 1950 McKeldin campaign advertisement which promised relief from the state tax on real estate and retail sales. The real estate levy is more than twice today what it was when McKeldin took office and the sales tax is about to be increased by 50 per cent, Lane said.

What Lane missed, John Grason Turnbull supplied in seconding Tawes' nomination

Attacks GOP Budgets

Turnbull, retiring state senator from Baltimore County and chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, said the Democratic Legislature had "saved" taxpayers about 20 million dollars by trimming that much from McKeldin's budgets since his election.

"We have been placed in the midst — let's face it — in the midst of a Republican recession," he said.

In his speech accepting the senatorial nomination, D'Alesandro summed up the convention theme once more.

"To those who worked for and voted for my opponents, I want to say that I bear no ill-will," he said. "The time has come for all good Democrats to close ranks and march together to a great victory in November."

Little was said by anyone to make anyone else angry at this unusual convention. This was almost true even in the platform, adopted in mechanical fashion without floor discussion almost.

The plank on increased representation for Baltimore City and the larger counties was changed at the last minute to eliminate reference to the fact that the city and five counties have 80 per cent of the population but only 20 per cent of the legislative seats.

In the national affairs plank, the platform accuses the Administration of pushing the nation "to the brink of a widespread and destructive depression" and losing friends and influence on the international scene.

Moderate Civil Rights Plank

Unlike the Republican platform adopted last Saturday, the Democratic summation of promises does not call for the elimination of racial segregation in hotels, restaurants and other public places.

Instead, it deplores "the lip service of those who seek to reap political profit from racial problems" and "points with pride to a (Democratic) record of action and not of words in this field." It mentions civil rights enacted by the Democratic Congress last year, school integration under the Baltimore City administration of Mayor D'Alesandro, and the city's passage of an ordinance for equal employment opportunity.

"We believe in a just, legal and reasonable solution to this problem," the platform said of the race question.

"We believe in calm and orderly action and we recommend that the school boards throughout the state act within the true spirit as well as the letter of the decree of the Supreme Court on the issue of integration in our public schools."

In short, it was a business-like convention, devoid of the emotions and tensions, hoorays and catcalls which had become the trademark of Democratic gatherings.

The candidates loved it.

Wardensville Elects New Town Officials

The West Virginia town of Wardensville in Hardy County had a spirited election yesterday in which both the mayor and recorder were defeated for re-election and only two of the five incumbent councilmen were returned to office.

New two-year terms start July 1.

Much of the controversy concerned arguments that the town police had made the community a "speed trap." The rival factions were designated as the "intowners" and the "out-of-towners" with the latter winning for the first time in years. Eighty-three voted and the West Virginia Blue Book lists the population at 171.

Rev. Gordon R. Zirkle was elected mayor decisively, receiving 52 votes to 31 for the incumbent, Otis Hines.

The complete but unofficial results of yesterday's election:

Educational TV Debate Warms Up

A Senate committee having approved a bill to grant up to $1 million to each state to construct educational television facilities, the debate among educators is getting hotter.

Dr. Marshall McLuhan of the University of Toronto, says electronic education has already made the classroom obsolete.

Dr. William G. Carr, executive secretary of the National Education Association, counters with the argument that the role of television is only to aid the teacher in the classroom.

McLuhan waxes eloquent and starry-eyed in his advocacy. "A way of life based on the primacy of the printed word is dissolving before us," he says. "Print created the classroom. Now a totally new form is rising from new technology.

"We can watch whole cultures, the postures of whole societies, including our own. Information moves around the clock and around the world in an instantaneous, simultaneous fashion. We have changed from a world in which business is our culture to one in which culture is our business."

But Dr. Carr is not so enthusiastic. "It is just not true in a great democracy that we can't get enough teachers to get a classroom ratio of 30 pupils to one teacher," he contends. "TV should start at that point and ask how to do the work with enough teachers."

Let the savants have at it. Television and electronics will contribute to education whatever experience dictates is of value to the young mind. If experience proves their effect to be revolutionary, then it will merely be another in a whole galaxy of revolutions that have already happened in this century.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

Labor Ethics

The difficulties which face the labor unions in the automobile situation arise from the fact that Walter Reuther, who is a shrewd strategist, made a mistake in talking too loud and saying too much, at a wrong time, when about 800,000 cars are unsold and the automobile companies can well afford to wait out a season. In fact, they will be much better off if they have a strike.

Therefore Reuther is wise in not being provoked into a strike. On the other hand, this is not a time when public opinion will support any labor union in any adamant position during a period of recession and particularly after the scandals which Congressional committees are disclosing. Many of the labor leaders have missed the point about the scandals. They still believe that only the enemies of labor call attention to the corruption in the unions. Actually, the rank and file of the unions are thoroughly disgusted with the thieving and the high-living of any labor union leaders. Some of these fellows imitate not the decent elements among the industrialists but the hoodlums who throw around hundred dollar bills as though they were green grass.

For instance, this statement made by A. J. Hayes, president of the International Association of Machinists and the leader of the Ethical Practices Committee of the A.F.L.-C.I.O., is all wrong in the approach to the subject:

"I also think I would be less than honest if I did not tell you at the outset that many of us in the labor movement believe that much of the clamor that has been set off by disclosures of graft and corruption in some trade unions—arises not from a sincere regard for the welfare of the individual members of those unions—but from a deeper and more devious desire to see the whole union movement smashed wide open. Therefore, I intend to discuss this subject with particular reference to the slanted publicity that has attended the McClellan Committee hearings. And I want to explore the implications of some of the legislative proposals that have grown out of them."

Prior to 1936, many Americans thought that it would be preferable for the unions to be destroyed, particularly after the syndicalistic sit-down strikes in the automobile and other industries. In 1958, the labor union is integrated in American industry.

On the other hand, feather-bedding, leader-corruption, the tie-in between crooked labor leaders and crooked industrialists, the infiltration of labor unions by gangsters have caused a re-evaluation of the freedom of labor union activity until there is a sentiment for legislation more effective than the Taft-Hartley Law, not to curb unionism but to eliminate illegal and indecent practices.

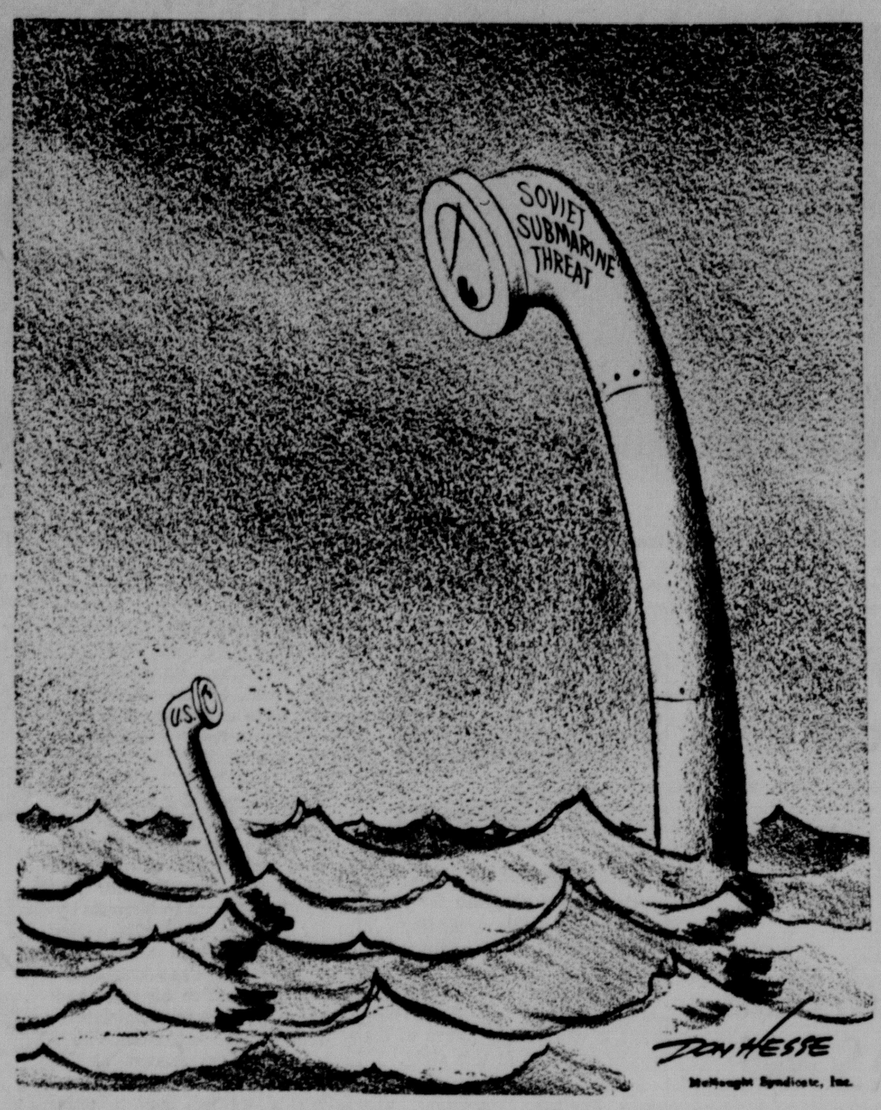

Labor unions can no more police themselves than corporations can. For the corporations, there is the Sherman Anti-Trust Law, the Clayton Law, the ICC, FCC, FTC, SEC, and a large number of laws involving conspiracies, frauds, false advertising, etc. Nevertheless there is still corruption and impropriety among corporations as the plethora of take-overs and the rigging of the stock market upward and downward indicate.

What is required is a rigid trade union law, a strict system of enforcement, with the rights of union members in their unions and of non-union members in their jobs protected by law. That will not mean perfection because there will always be corrupt and improper enforcement of any law, unless the people, and especially the newspapers, as representing public opinion, are vigilant.

Often so-called labor union statesmanship is so obsessed with the need for popularity among union members that it forgets that leaders have the responsibility of leading. For instance, the recent amalgamation of the United Press and the International News Service is a result of high costs in a service industry where competition could only mean lower prices for better service. As the costs rose, the service deteriorated and the price for the service rose. Obviously, not this year or last but for 10 years or more, there has been no particular need for three such services but the I.N.S. might have survived if it could have cut charges. With wages and fringe benefits rising, this third medium of news-gathering out-priced itself and therefore had to die. And so it died and several hundred persons are out of work. Where is the statesmanship in that?

Tragedy On The High Seas

Background Of De Gaulle's Efforts Features Three Unhappy Overtones

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — In the background of General de Gaulle's heroic efforts to unite faction-ridden France are some unhappy overtones. They are:

OVERTONE NO. 1—Leon Delbecque, the man who first organized the committees of public safety in Algeria, has expressed open disapproval of de Gaulle's moderate policies. More important, and what he hasn't talked about, is his secret campaign to organize committees of public safety in France itself.

OVERTONE NO. 2—The two ministers of state whom de Gaulle took to Algeria were virtually locked in a room in Government House until the de Gaulle welcoming ceremonies were over. They represented political parties and the right wing doesn't like political parties.

OVERTONE NO. 3—Ferdinand Mitterand, ex-minister of the interior, was pursued at breakneck speed through the streets of Paris by a gang of Croix de Feux Fascists, apparently out to kill him. He finally trapped them by driving into a police compound.

These all add up to the fact that de Gaulle's vigorous but middle-of-the-road policies don't satisfy the extreme right. They want a military dictatorship of the Franco variety, believe de Gaulle made too many deals with the political leaders to get into power. They want nothing to do with political parties.

Communists are watching from the wings, listening to the overtones, confident they will inherit the de Gaulle afterbirth. They figure he won't deal drastically enough with the Vichyites, the Petainites, and the right wing which played footsie to the Nazis, but now want a Franco-type dictatorship.

Keeping Young At 90

Ninety-year-old Senator Theodore Francis Green of Rhode Island was up until midnight twice last week, piloting the Foreign Aid Bill through the Senate. Each morning he was up as usual at seven; and on one morning, in the gymnasium of the University Club where he lives, exchanging physical education ideas with German middleweight boxing champ Franz Szuzina, in Washington for the big brothers boxing bout with Joey Giardello.

"I'm a wrestler not a boxer," explained the oldest member of the Senate in history. "I used to wrestle in the Senate gym up until two years ago, but" he added, a little sadly, "I've given that up."

"How do you keep so trim?" asked Szuzina, looking at the Senator's waistline.

"Walking to work every morning and pushing myself away from the dinner table," replied the Senator. "I keep my weight at 134 and if it goes a couple of pounds over, I just eat less."

When the Senator was asked to pose for the newsreels, he insisted on talking to Szuzina in German. The German boxer said afterward that Green spoke German almost without an accent. Green has some other diversified "skeletons" in his closet. He once taught Roman law at Brown University, has served for forty years as treasurer of the Seaview Railroad and trustee of the Rhode Island Trolley Lines, is a member of the National Council of the Boy Scouts of America.

Two Up—One Down

Senator Clinton Anderson of New Mexico won two long battles with the Eisenhower Administration in the last few days; also helped score one defeat for the nation.

After four steady years of hammering at Admiral Lewis Strauss, the investment banker whom he considered unqualified to be the chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, Strauss bowed out.

After six months of prodding Strauss and Eisenhower to dedicate the peacetime atomic reactor at Shippingport, Pa., Ike finally dedicated it. Anderson, with Senator Gore of Tennessee and Congressmen Clarence Cannon of Missouri, Mel Price of Illinois and Chet Holified of California, had repeatedly reminded the administration that Queen Elizabeth personally dedicated the British reactor at Calder Hall, but that Ike preferred golf to attending the dedication ceremonies.

They pointed out that the Shippingport project was probably more significant than Sputnik, but the world knew little about it because the President preferred Gettysburg to going to Pittsburgh for half a day.

Finally, just before Admiral Strauss resigned, Ike pushed a button in the White House which officially dedicated the peacetime reactor. The incident lacked the drama that would have surrounded it had the President flown to the reactor personally. But six months after it actually opened, Anderson finally got the reactor dedicated.

Last week, however, Anderson threw his vote to the isolationists who would bar foreign aid from going to Poland, Rumania, Hungary, and the satellite countries which offer the USA the best chance to make friends behind the Iron Curtain. Sixteen other Democrats lined up with him, but they didn't know any better. Anderson did.

Worker's Loyalty May Cause Loss Of His Job

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Larue I. Berfield works in a factory of the Sylvania Electric Corporation at Emporium, Pennsylvania. He has worked for the same company for 19 years, but is about to lose his job through no fault of his own and through no desire of his employer to fire him. He spent four years in the armed forces — first with the Fifth Air Force overseas, and then 28 months in the Southwest Pacific.

But Mr. Berfield is in serious trouble. He has the "misfortune" of being a white citizen and not a Communist sympathizer. If he were either a Negro or a member of some Communist front organization he and his children would be getting the protection of several of the so-called "civil liberties" organizations which usually raise defense funds or appear in court in behalf of persons in "civil rights" cases or those who plead the Fifth Amendment or the right of free speech under the First Amendment.

Mr. Berfield, exercising his right of petition, came to Congress to tell his story. The reason he is about to be deprived of his job is because he doesn't believe in Communism and is unwilling to join those who he believes are its exponents in this country. The plant where he works is engaged in defense work and makes certain articles that are "classified," though it appears they have something to do with making improved equipment for the ballistic missile's early warning system.

After an election among the employes, Mr. Berfield told the Senate Subcommittee on Internal Security the other day, a union was certified on May 16th as bargaining agent for all employes. It is known as the United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers of America and was expelled by the CIO from its organization eight years ago on the ground of "Communist domination."

Now since the union has obtained from the employer a contract providing for what is termed the "union shop" under existing federal law, the employer is required to dismiss anyone who after 30 days does not become a member of the union. Mr. Berfield, therefore, has until June 16th next to make up his mind whether to join the union or lose his employment. He doesn't want to give up his job, but if he doesn't, he will have to stultify himself by disavowing, in effect, the two loyalty oaths he has taken — one to a Civil Defense organization and one to a local school board. He has pledged that he is not identified with any Communist organization.

Mr. Berfield told the committee that he could not in good conscience join the union because he would not be upholding his loyalty oaths to the fullest extent. He wrote a letter to the Senate subcommittee which said, in part:

"From reports of investigations by the U.S. government, it has been found that the U.E. is Communist dominated and controlled. I would like to know if a person can be forced to join such an organization in order to keep their employment?"

Here is what the CIO said in their formal resolution expelling the "U.E." from its organization:

"We can no longer tolerate within the family of the CIO the Communist Party masquerading as a labor union. The time has come when the CIO must strip the mask from these false leaders whose only purpose is to deceive and betray the workers. So long as the agents of the Communist Party in the labor movement enjoy the benefits of affiliation within the CIO, they will continue to carry on this betrayal under the protection of the good name of the CIO."

Under recent Supreme Court decisions, when a union is certified as bargaining agent it cannot lose its rights because it is Communist dominated. Indeed there is a hint in the court rulings that the individual has a constitutional "right of free association" with Communists so long as he isn't caught participating in any overt acts of revolution against our government.

But there seems to have been no clear-cut case in which protection is afforded to a man who wants to maintain his beliefs and who refuses at the same time to join a Communist dominated union.

The case points up the tyrannical power of the so-called "union shop," which is a synonym for labor union monopoly. Even the American Civil Liberties Union, which is active in protecting a Negro worker who has been discriminated against by a railway labor union, speaks of the exclusive bargaining rights of unions nowadays as "comparable in scope to certain types of common law monopolies" and, approvingly, describes the power of a labor union today as "clearly that of an economic legislature endowed by the government." It adds that "the similarity of union and governmental action is inescapable."

But, it may be asked, if unions have become a system of government, why shouldn't they be subject to the Bill of Rights under the Constitution? Why should Mr. Berfield pay the penalty of losing his means of livelihood just because of his beliefs? The Senate Subcommittee chairman, Senator Olin D. Johnston of South Carolina, Democrat, has rightly promised to study the case and recommend remedial legislation. But meanwhile Mr. Berfield can only appeal to the courts to protect his job. One wonders what organizations take care of individual workers who have that kind of a legal problem to finance — especially when the victim is a white man and also is not a Communist sympathizer.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

By Jim Bishop

Sunday is Father's Day. There will be no observance here. My daughters love their father on too many days of the year now. And they despise him on so few. They do not want anyone telling them when I should get a tie and a kiss, or when they should visit their mother's grave, or on what day they can be kind to our cowardly dog, Rocky.

The American goal is always peace and a dollar. We have gone too far for the dollar. The home is now invaded by pressurized publicity and we are told when to love each other. This house always had love. It had fights too — bitter ones — but let some stranger walk in waving a proclamation and saying: "Peace. The calendar says that this is the time to love your mother-in-law" and he'd have been hit with an empty bottle.

Father's Day my eye. On the desk before me is a big sheet of paper with a headline that says: "Father's Day News." You want to know some of the "news" on it? Don't laugh, because this is big business:

The National Father's Day Committee consists, in part, of such good old-fashioned fathers as Mrs. Lawrence Tibbett, Mrs. Howard Chandler Christy, Mrs. Oliver Harriman, Mrs. Eddie Rickenbacker, and the Camp Fire Girls. Oh brother . . .

The official "Dad's Flower" is the red rose. The official menu for Sunday is soup, chicken, cranberry sauce, and ice cream cake. The committee has arranged A Father's Ten Commandments. The first is "Your sense of Brotherhood instills in your child respect for his fellow man." I would change that one to read: "Your sense of devotion to your wife and children instills in the young respect for themselves and their elders."

The committee, it seems to me, misses the point in selecting a Father of the Year. He should be a man who has done the most with the least. Somewhere there is a brakeman or factory worker or miner who, on little income, shepherds a large family and aims them toward God and country and family unity. If, in addition, he manages to keep them fed and clothed and housed, then he is the real father of the year.

The committee picked Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower. He is president of Johns Hopkins University and a brother of the President. He is probably a good father. He can't afford to be less. However, I cannot picture myself day-dreaming about dear old dad and coming up with a mental image of Milton Eisenhower. Nor can I envisage him rolling on the floor with the children. Or anyone else.

Eddie Fisher is the Music Father of the Year. He is sweet and professionally humble and was good for a Father's Day plug on his program. Walter Brennan, the personable persimmon of the movies, is the Grandfather of the Year. Howard Duff and Ida Lupino are the Husband and Wife team of the year, although how that got into Father's Day escapes me. So does the nomination of Woman of the Year (Helen Hayes.)

The Sports Father of the Year is Sugar Ray Robinson. Know why? Because he is "the only man to have won the world's middleweight crown five times." To be a good father, one doesn't need more than that. Peter Ustinov, an English actor, was picked as Stage Father of the Year "because of his cultured attitude toward life." That does it.

Victor Borge is the Television Father of the Year. Why? "Because his exceptional telecast in January 1958, set a new high mark in humor and serious music." The Radio Father of the Year is Walter Cronkite "because of his long and continuing excellence in straight news and feature coverage."

The committee wanders far in its reasons for selecting men as fathers of the year. The all-time father of all years would, I suggest, be Joseph, husband of Mary. But he, poor man, doesn't stand much of a chance of being nominated for anything because he hasn't got a press agent or a rich sponsor.

Anyway, he did nothing out of the ordinary except to follow the will of God. What committee in its right mind would think of mentioning Joseph as an example for all fathers? He hasn't even got a Trendex rating.

Still, you may be sure of this: on Sunday, when the children of the nation have a choice between honoring Dr. Milton Eisenhower or their own daddies, no child will hesitate.

Medication And Other Treatment For Epilepsy

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Numerous useful and potent drugs are available for the treatment of epilepsy. New compounds are coming on the market so rapidly, it is difficult to keep up with progress in this field.

The anti-epileptic products are known as anti-convulsants or suppressants, because they prevent convulsions or suppress seizures. The attacks can be controlled completely in 50 per cent of all cases; 35 per cent are improved; 15 per cent are not benefited.

The treatment of epilepsy should be tailor-made to fit the individual need of each patient. Drugs effective in one type of seizure often are of no value against another and may even be detrimental. The dosage is gauged by the frequency and character of the attacks. The remedy should be continued indefinitely—for life in some patients. After years of control, it may be withdrawn slowly and discontinued should symptoms fail to return.

The old-timers, phenobarbital and the bromides, still are used occasionally in the grand mal type of epilepsy. The have been replaced largely by newcomers such as Dilantin, Mesantoin, and Mysoline. These products also are used in the psychomotor form of the disease, as well as Phenurone, Tridione, Paradione, and Milontin are effective in the blackouts that occur in petit mal.

None of these remedies is ideal or perfect but we are fortunate in having such a choice. If one fails, another is tried. In addition, if toxic or other undesirable side reactions occur with one product, another can be utilized.

There is more to the treatment of epilepsy than medication. The brain waves of the victim are abnormal due to some underlying disorder that cannot be detected with our present tests and equipment. As a result, all epileptics should avoid excesses, get ample rest, eat a well balanced nutritional diet, indulge in a reasonable amount of exercise, and avoid alcohol.

CANCER SPECULATIONS

N. L. writes: You always say that cancer is not contagious. But suppose it is caused by a virus?

REPLY

As research continues, we may have to change our mind. On the other hand, to be contagious, a causative virus must have a way to pass from one person to another. In addition, the soil must be suitable. Warts, for example, are caused by viruses but seldom spread to others even when a boy and girl hold hands, unless the party of the second part is susceptible to these lesions.

FLUORESCENT LIGHTING

A. H. writes: Since I had a heart attack some time ago, whenever I walk into the subway station, all faces seem to have a devil-green color. Can you explain this occurrence?

REPLY

Blame it on the lighting system, not your heart.

VITAMINS AND BLEEDING

H. L. writes: What vitamin is good for frequent nose bleeds?

REPLY

If bleeding is due to scurvy or fragile blood vessels, vitamin C and rutin may help. Occasionally liver disease encourages nosebleed, and in such instances, vitamin K is of value.

STRESS AND DIABETES

Mrs. W. writes: Does pregnancy cause diabetes?

REPLY

No, Diabetes may be present in a mild form and it takes stress of some kind to bring it out. Stress situations include accidents, operations, infections, or pregnancy.

SORE THUMBS

B. L. writes. Would you have any idea why my thumbs ache in bed at night?

REPLY

Pressure on the nerves that go to the thumbs is a possibility. This usually takes place in the neck and may stem from change of posture when lying down.

TOMORROW: Living with stress situations.

Educational TV Debate Warms Up

A Senate committee having approved a bill to grant up to $1 million to each state to construct educational television facilities, the debate among educators is getting hotter.

Dr. Marshall McLuhan of the University of Toronto, says electronic education has already made the classroom obsolete.

Dr. William G. Carr, executive secretary of the National Education Association, counters with the argument that the role of television is only to aid the teacher in the classroom.

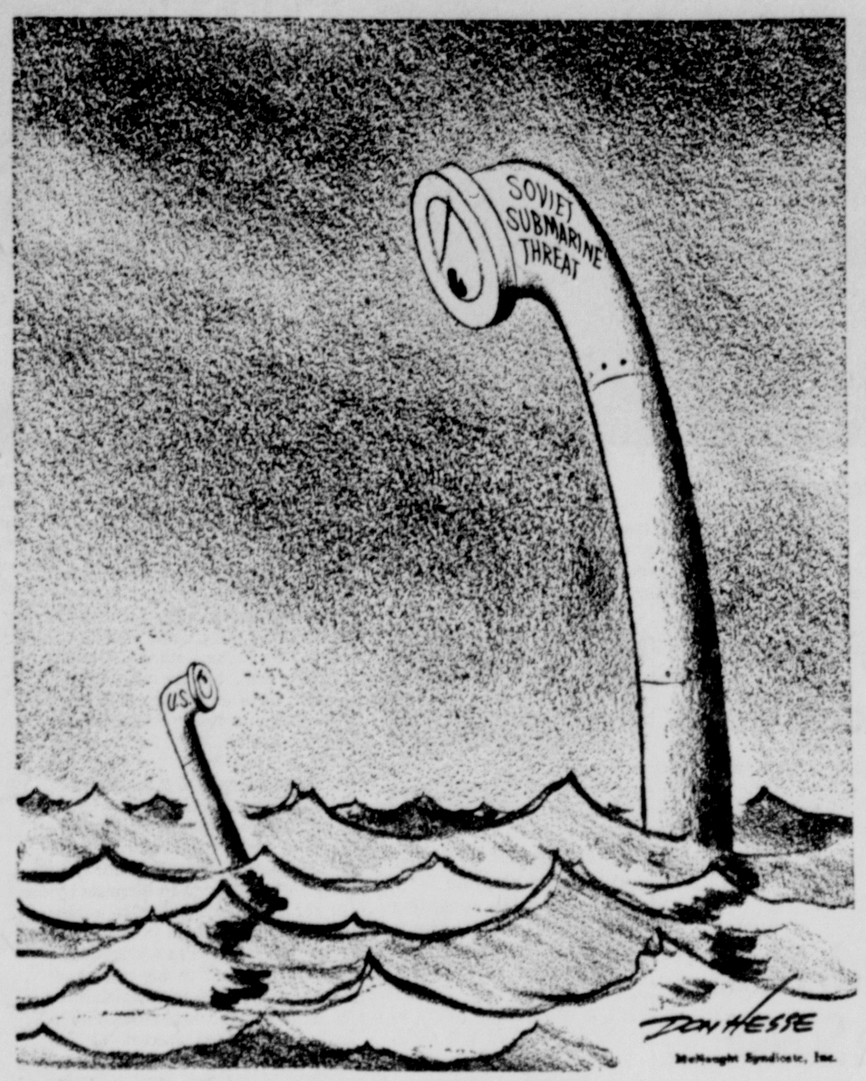

McLuhan waxes eloquent and starry-eyed in his advocacy. "A way of life based on the primacy of the printed word is dissolving before us," he says. "Print created the classroom. Now a totally new form is rising from new technology.

"We can watch whole cultures, the postures of whole societies, including our own. Information moves around the clock and around the world in an instantaneous, simultaneous fashion. We have changed from a world in which business is our culture to one in which culture is our business."

But Dr. Carr is not so enthusiastic. "It is just not true in a great democracy that we can't get enough teachers to get a classroom ratio of 30 pupils to one teacher," he contends. "TV should start at that point and ask how to do the work with enough teachers."

Let the savants have at it. Television and electronics will contribute to education whatever experience dictates is of value to the young mind. If experience proves their effect to be revolutionary, then it will merely be another in a whole galaxy of revolutions that have already happened in this century.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

Labor Ethics

The difficulties which face the labor unions in the automobile situation arise from the fact that Walter Reuther, who is a shrewd strategist, made a mistake in talking too loud and saying too much, at a wrong time, when about 300,000 cars are unsold and the automobile companies can well afford to wait out a season. In fact, they will be much better off if they have a strike.

Therefore Reuther is wise in not being provoked into a strike. On the other hand, this is not a time when public opinion will support any labor union in any adamant position during a period of recession and particularly after the scandals which Congressional committees are disclosing. Many of the labor leaders have missed the point about the scandals. They still believe that only the enemies of labor call attention to the corruption in the unions. Actually, the rank and file of the unions are thoroughly disgusted with the thieving and the high-living of any labor union leaders. Some of these fellows imitate not the decent elements among the industrialists but the hoodlums who throw around hundred dollar bills as though they were green grass.

For instance, this statement made by A. J. Hayes, president of the International Association of Machinists and the leader of the Ethical Practices Committee of the A.F.L.-C.I.O., is all wrong in the approach to the subject:

"I also think I would be less than honest if I did not tell you at the outset that many of us in the labor movement believe that much of the clamor that has been set off by disclosures of graft and corruption in some trade unions—arises not from a sincere regard for the welfare of the individual members of those unions—but from a deeper and more devious desire to see the whole union movement smashed wide open. Therefore, I intend to discuss this subject with particular reference to the slanted publicity that has attended the McClellan Committee hearings. And I want to explore the implications of some of the legislative proposals that have grown out of them."

Prior to 1936, many Americans thought that it would be preferable for the unions to be destroyed, particularly after the syndicalistic sit-down strikes in the automobile and other industries. In 1958, the labor union is integrated in American industry.

On the other hand, feather-bedding, leader-corruption, the tie-in between crooked labor leaders and crooked industrialists, the infiltration of labor unions by gangsters have caused a re-evaluation of the freedom of labor union activity until there is a sentiment for legislation more effective than the Taft-Hartley Law, not to curb unionism but to eliminate illegal and indecent practices.

Labor unions can no more police themselves than corporations can. For the corporations, there is the Sherman Anti-Trust Law, the Clayton Law, the ICC, FCC, FTC, SEC, and a large number of laws involving conspiracies, frauds, false advertising, etc. Nevertheless there is still corruption and impropriety among corporations as the plethora of take-overs and the rigging of the stock market upward and downward indicate.

What is required is a rigid trade union law, a strict system of enforcement, with the rights of union members in their unions and of non-union members in their jobs protected by law. That will not mean perfection because there will always be corrupt and improper enforcement of any law, unless the people, and especially the newspapers, as representing public opinion, are vigilant.

Often so-called labor union statesmanship is so obsessed with the need for popularity among union members that it forgets that leaders have the responsibility of leading. For instance, the recent amalgamation of the United Press and the International News Service is a result of high costs in a service industry where competition could only mean lower prices for better service. As the costs rose, the service deteriorated and the price for the service rose. Obviously, not this year or last but for 10 years or more, there has been no particular need for three such services but the I.N.S. might have survived if it could have cut charges. With wages and fringe benefits rising, this third medium of news-gathering out-priced itself and therefore had to die. And so it died and several hundred persons are out of work. Where is the statesmanship in that?

Jim Bishop: Reporter

By Jim Bishop

Sunday is Father's Day. There will be no observance here. My daughters love their father on too many days of the year now. And they despise him on so few. They do not want anyone telling them when I should get a tie and a kiss, or when they should visit their mother's grave, or on what day they can be kind to our cowardly dog, Rocky.

The American goal is always peace and a dollar. We have gone too far for the dollar. The home is now invaded by pressurized publicity and we are told when to love each other. This house always had love. It had fights too — bitter ones — but let some stranger walk in waving a proclamation and saying: "Peace. The calendar says that this is the time to love your mother-in-law" and he'd have been hit with an empty bottle.

Father's Day my eye. On the desk before me is a big sheet of paper with a headline that says: "Father's Day News." You want to know some of the "news" on it? Don't laugh, because this is big business:

The National Father's Day Committee consists, in part, of such good old-fashioned fathers as Mrs. Lawrence Tibbett, Mrs. Howard Chandler Christy, Mrs. Oliver Harriman, Mrs. Eddie Rickenbacker, and the Camp Fire Girls. Oh brother . . .

The official "Dad's Flower" is the red rose. The official menu for Sunday is soup, chicken, cranberry sauce, and ice cream cake. The committee has arranged A Father's Ten Commandments. The first is "Your sense of Brotherhood instills in your child respect for his fellow man." I would change that one to read: "Your sense of devotion to your wife and children instills in the young respect for themselves and their elders."

The committee, it seems to me, misses the point in selecting a Father of the Year. He should be a man who has done the most with the least. Somewhere there is a brakeman or factory worker or miner who, on little income, shepherds a large family and aims them toward God and country and family unity. If, in addition, he manages to keep them fed and clothed and housed, then he is the real father of the year.

The committee picked Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower. He is president of Johns Hopkins University and a brother of the President. He is probably a good father. He can't afford to be less. However, I cannot picture myself day-dreaming about dear old dad and coming up with a mental image of Milton Eisenhower. Nor can I envisage him rolling on the floor with the children. Or anyone else.

Eddie Fisher is the Music Father of the Year. He is sweet and professionally humble and was good for a Father's Day plug on his program. Walter Brennan, the personable persimmon of the movies, is the Grandfather of the Year. Howard Duff and Ida Lupino are the Husband and Wife team of the year, although how that got into Father's Day escapes me. So does the nomination of Woman of the Year (Helen Hayes.)

The Sports Father of the Year is Sugar Ray Robinson. Know why? Because he is "the only man to have won the world's middleweight crown five times." To be a good father, one doesn't need more than that. Peter Ustinov, an English actor, was picked as Stage Father of the Year "because of his cultured attitude toward life." That does it.

Victor Borge is the Television Father of the Year. Why? "Because his exceptional telecast in January 1958, set a new high mark in humor and serious music." The Radio Father of the Year is Walter Cronkite "because of his long and continuing excellence in straight news and feature coverage."

The committee wanders far in its reasons for selecting men as fathers of the year. The all-time father of all years would, I suggest, be Joseph, husband of Mary. But he, poor man, doesn't stand much of a chance of being nominated for anything because he hasn't got a press agent or a rich sponsor.

Anyway, he did nothing out of the ordinary except to follow the will of God. What committee in its right mind would think of mentioning Joseph as an example for all fathers? He hasn't even got a Trendex rating.

Still, you may be sure of this: on Sunday, when the children of the nation have a choice between honoring Dr. Milton Eisenhower or their own daddies, no child will hesitate.

Medication And Other Treatment For Epilepsy

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Numerous useful and potent drugs are available for the treatment of epilepsy. New compounds are coming on the market so rapidly, it is difficult to keep up with progress in this field.

The anti-epileptic products are known as anti-convulsants or suppressants, because they prevent convulsions or suppress seizures. The attacks can be controlled completely in 50 per cent of all cases; 35 per cent are improved; 15 per cent are not benefited.

The treatment of epilepsy should be tailor-made to fit the individual need of each patient. Drugs effective in one type of seizure often are of no value against another and may even be detrimental. The dosage is gauged by the frequency and character of the attacks. The remedy should be continued indefinitely—for life in some patients. After years of control, it may be withdrawn slowly and discontinued should symptoms fail to return.

The old-timers, phenobarbital and the bromides, still are used occasionally in the grand mal type of epilepsy. The have been replaced largely by newcomers such as Dilantin, Mesantoin, and Mysoline. These products also are used in the psychomotor form of the disease, as well as Phenurone, Tridione, Paradione, and Milontin are effective in the blackouts that occur in petit mal.

None of these remedies is ideal or perfect but we are fortunate in having such a choice. If one fails, another is tried. In addition, if toxic or other undesirable side reactions occur with one product, another can be utilized.

There is more to the treatment of epilepsy than medication. The brain waves of the victim are abnormal due to some underlying disorder that cannot be detected with our present tests and equipment. As a result, all epileptics should avoid excesses, get ample rest, eat a well balanced nutritional diet, indulge in a reasonable amount of exercise, and avoid alcohol.

CANCER SPECULATIONS

N. L. writes: You always say that cancer is not contagious. But suppose it is caused by a virus?

REPLY

As research continues, we may have to change our mind. On the other hand, to be contagious, a causative virus must have a way to pass from one person to another. In addition, the soil must be suitable. Warts, for example, are caused by viruses but seldom spread to others even when a boy and girl hold hands, unless the party of the second part is susceptible to these lesions.

FLUORESCENT LIGHTING

REPLY

Blame it on the lighting system, not your heart.

VITAMINS AND BLEEDING

H. L. writes: What vitamin is good for frequent nose bleeds?

REPLY

If bleeding is due to scurvy or fragile blood vessels, vitamin C and rutin may help. Occasionally liver disease encourages nosebleed, and in such instances, vitamin K is of value.

STRESS AND DIABETES

Mrs. W. writes: Does pregnancy cause diabetes?

REPLY

No. Diabetes may be present in a mild form and it takes stress of some kind to bring it out. Stress situations include accidents, operations, infections, or pregnancy.

SORE THUMBS

B. L. writes: Would you have any idea why my thumbs ache in bed at night?

REPLY

Pressure on the nerves that go to the thumbs is a possibility. This usually takes place in the neck and may stem from change of posture when lying down.

TOMORROW: Living with stress situations.

To the limit of space questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed Telephone inquiries not accepted Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

"Heard about Tom S——?" asked the friend. "He's decided to run against you."

"I'm not surprised," snapped the congressman. "What would you expect from a liar and a crook?"

"Jim J——'s also going to throw his hat in the ring," continued the friend.

"Another scoundrel!" fumed the congressman.

"Aw," said the friend, "I'm only kidding. S—— and J—— are two of your best friends, and asked to be remembered to you."

"What a foul trick you played!" chided the congressman. "You've made me say unkind things about two of the sweetest, most upright men I've ever met in my life."

New Factory Is Completed At Frostburg

$2,100 Needed To Meet City's Share

FROSTBURG — Howard Shuman, chairman of the Frostburg Industrial Development Company, announced yesterday that the new factory to be occupied by the Cumberland Undergarment Company is now completed and is being equipped and ready to start production by June 15.

"However," Shuman said, "we are desperately in need of $2,100 to complete our share of the construction."

The total cost of the factory, he said, was $97,000. The Undergarment, or parent company, paid $27,000 as its share. This left $70,000 for Frostburg to pay and the $2,100 is still needed.

"As a matter of civic pride," he said, "there should be enough money in Frostburg to complete our part of the bargain. We need 21 people who will purchase a share of stock at $100. This will bear 3 per cent interest and may help us out of a hole."

The factory will employ between 100 and 125 persons when it opens. The Undergarment Company has hired women from the Frostburg area during the past few months, and have trained them in the Cumberland factory. These girls have been waiting for the factory to open to begin their regular employment.

These seven graduates of Frostburg State Teachers College are among the honor students who averaged 2.25 or better for their collegiate studies. Second row, same order, are John Seaton, Frostburg; Caroline Smith, Baltimore; Patricia Allen, Frostburg, and James Eckard, Cumberland. There honors were conferred last Friday.

Bedford County Farmers Informed On Wheat Vote

BEDFORD, Pa.—Bedford County farmers were reminded yesterday that wheat growers eligible to cast ballots in the June 20 referendum on 1959 wheat quotas are those who would be subject to the marketing quota program if it is approved.

"The meaning of the term 'eligible voter, is only slightly different from what it was in last year's vote on quotas for the 1958 wheat crop," Harry C. Robinson, chairman of the Bedford County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, declares. "This change results from new legislation which provided a feed wheat program and in effect modified the wheat marketing quota provisions."

The term "eligible voter" in this year's referendum on 1959 wheat quotas, according to the chairman, now includes—with one exception—all those farmers in a commercial wheat state who will be engaged in the production of the 1959 wheat crop and who will harvest more than 15 acres of wheat for grain on their farm. The exception is that those farmers who are taking part in the 1958 feed wheat program may not vote on quotas for the 1959 wheat crop.

Under the feed wheat program, farmers whose applications for feed wheat privilege are approved and whose allotments are less than 30 acres may grow up to 30 acres of wheat for use only on the farm where grown without becoming liable for marketing quota penalties.

Mr. Robinson emphasizes that each individual's right to vote depends entirely upon his or her own qualifications. This applies also to minors who are producers.

Farmers who have any question about their eligibility to vote in the June 20 wheat referendum should get in touch with the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Office for further information. If a voter's eligibility to vote should be questioned, he may vote a "challenged ballot, which will be tabulated later as valid when and if its validity can be established.

W. Va. Poultry Modernization Drive Planned

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. — A modernization program for more efficient broiler production in West Virginia was adopted by more than 100 poultry industry representatives who attended a recent meeting at Blackwater Falls to discuss the future of the broiler industry in this state.

Spearheaded by the West Virginia Poultry Association, this was the third in a series of meetings held to examine the present status of the broiler industry in West Virginia and to plan for an aggressive program for modernizing the poultry industry to enable it to compete with other broiler-producing areas.

Committees on area analysis and objectives, financing, management, and housing gave reports that climaxed a month of intensive investigation and study. These reports gave a picture of the present situation and outlined a program for the future designed to make the West Virginia broiler industry fully competitive with other areas.

The program will be launched on an industry-wide basis with emphasis on efficiency and volume as the keys to broiler profits. Certain guiding principles will be emphasized, including a minimum of 30,000 broilers for one person as a full-time operation and at least 10,000 broilers for a part-time operation. Agreement was reached on minimum standards for management and housing and the entire industry will emphasize these recommendations in promoting the program.

Plans for a recommended broiler house are now being prepared and will be available soon. Leaflets giving management and housing recommendations also will be available for interested producers. Emphasis was placed financing for the modernization program. The various sources of credit have been studied and it is believed that adequate financing will be available.

Additional details will be available soon as the West Virginia poultry industry swings into a modernization program which will help West Virginia broilers become fully competitive with those produced in other areas.

Gov. Underwood Urged To Call Special Session

More Liberalized Benefits Foreseen

CHARLESTON (AP) — A special session of the Legislature to enable West Virginia to avail itself of more liberal unemployment compensation benefits under new federal laws was urged upon Gov. Underwood Tuesday.

The resolution said that nearly 20,000 West Virginians who have been receiving unemployment benefits will, by the end of this month, have exhausted the benefits available under present law.

The appeal set forth these points:

"To call a special session of the Legislature . . . to enact necessary legislation to enable West Virginia to avail itself of federal emergency legislation providing for advancement of funds to increase by 50 per cent the number of weeks per year for which an eligible beneficiary may draw unemployment compensation benefits, and

"To propose to the Legislature of West Virginia legislation which will increase the amount of the weekly benefits to which a beneficiary is entitled, and to urge enactment by the Legislature of such legislation as promptly as possible, either at the special session referred to above or, at the very latest, the January, 1959, session."

New Factory Is Completed At Frostburg

$2,100 Needed To Meet City's Share

FROSTBURG — Howard Shuman, chairman of the Frostburg Industrial Development Company, announced yesterday that the new factory to be occupied by the Cumberland Undergarment Company is now completed and is being equipped and ready to start production by June 15.

"However," Shuman said, "we are desperately in need of $2,100 to complete our share of the construction."

The total cost of the factory, he said, was $97,000. The Undergarment, or parent company, paid $27,000 as its share. This left $70,000 for Frostburg to pay and the $2,100 is still needed.

"As a matter of civic pride," he said, "there should be enough money in Frostburg to complete our part of the bargain. We need 21 people who will purchase a share of stock at $100. This will bear 3 per cent interest and may help us out of a hole."

The factory will employ between 100 and 125 persons when it opens. The Undergarment Company has hired women from the Frostburg area during the past few months, and have trained them in the Cumberland factory. These girls have been waiting for the factory to open to begin their regular employment.

Second row, same order, are John Seaton, Frostburg; Caroline Smith, Baltimore; Patricia Allen, Frostburg, and James Eckard, Cumberland. There honors were conferred last Friday.

Gov. Underwood Urged To Call Special Session

More Liberalized Benefits Foreseen

CHARLESTON (AP) — A special session of the Legislature to enable West Virginia to avail itself of more liberal unemployment compensation benefits under new federal laws was urged upon Gov. Underwood Tuesday.

The Joint Labor Legislative Committee announced it had gone on record in a formal resolution urging a special session.

The committee represents the West Virginia Labor Federation, AFL-CIO; the State Council of Teamsters and the United Mine Workers.

The resolution said that nearly 20,000 West Virginians who have been receiving unemployment benefits will, by the end of this month, have exhausted the benefits available under present law.

The appeal set forth these points:

"To call a special session of the Legislature . . . to enact necessary legislation to enable West Virginia to avail itself of federal emergency legislation providing for advancement of funds to increase by 50 per cent the number of weeks per year for which an eligible beneficiary may draw unemployment compensation benefits, and

"To propose to the Legislature of West Virginia legislation which will increase the amount of the weekly benefits to which a beneficiary is entitled, and to urge enactment by the Legislature of such legislation as promptly as possible, either at the special session referred to above or, at the very latest, the January, 1959, session."

Bedford County Farmers Informed On Wheat Vote

BEDFORD, Pa.—Bedford County farmers were reminded yesterday that wheat growers eligible to cast ballots in the June 20 referendum on 1959 wheat quotas are those who would be subject to the marketing quota program if it is approved.

"The meaning of the term 'eligible voter, is only slightly different from what it was in last year's vote on quotas for the 1958 wheat crop," Harry C. Robinson, chairman of the Bedford County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, declares. "This change results from new legislation which provided a feed wheat program and in effect modified the wheat marketing quota provisions."

The term "eligible voter" in this year's referendum on 1959 wheat quotas, according to the chairman, now includes—with one exception—all those farmers in a commercial wheat state who will be engaged in the production of the 1959 wheat crop and who will harvest more than 15 acres of wheat for grain on their farm. The exception is that those farmers who are taking part in the 1958 feed wheat program may not vote on quotas for the 1959 wheat crop.

Under the feed wheat program, farmers whose applications for feed wheat privilege are approved and whose allotments are less than 30 acres may grow up to 30 acres of wheat for use only on the farm where grown without becoming liable for marketing quota penalties.

Mr. Robinson emphasizes that each individual's right to vote depends entirely upon his or her own qualifications. This applies also to minors who are producers.

Farmers who have any question about their eligibility to vote in the June 20 wheat referendum should get in touch with the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Office for further information. If a voter's eligibility to vote should be questioned, he may vote a "challenged ballot, which will be tabulated later as valid when and if its validity can be established.

W. Va. Poultry Modernization Drive Planned

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. — A modernization program for more efficient broiler production in West Virginia was adopted by more than 100 poultry industry representatives who attended a recent meeting at Blackwater Falls to discuss the future of the broiler industry in this state.

Spearheaded by the West Virginia Poultry Association, this was the third in a series of meetings held to examine the present status of the broiler industry in West Virginia and to plan for an aggressive program for modernizing the poultry industry to enable it to compete with other broiler-producing areas.

Committees on area analysis and objectives, financing, management, and housing gave reports that climaxed a month of intensive investigation and study. These reports gave a picture of the present situation and outlined a program for the future designed to make the West Virginia broiler industry fully competitive with other areas.

The program will be launched on an industry-wide basis with emphasis on efficiency and volume as the keys to broiler profits. Certain guiding principles will be emphasized, including a minimum of 30,000 broilers for one person as a full-time operation and at least 10,000 broilers for a part-time operation. Agreement was reached on minimum standards for management and housing and the entire industry will emphasize these recommendations in promoting the program.

Plans for a recommended broiler house are now being prepared and will be available soon. Leaflets giving management and housing recommendations also will be available for interested producers. Emphasis was placed financing for the modernization program. The various sources of credit have been studied and it is believed that adequate financing will be available.

Additional details will be available soon as the West Virginia poultry industry swings into a modernization program which will help West Virginia broilers become fully competitive with those produced in other areas.

Ray Moore Scores Over Clevenger In Opening Game, 5-4

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Washington Senators whipped off four double plays and got eight-hit pitching from Hal Griggs and Dick Hyde as they defeated the Chicago White Sox 5-2 in the second game of a double-header Tuesday night after the White Sox took the first game 5-4.

Four-run rallies decided both games. The Senators got theirs in the sixth inning of the nightcap to break what had been a 1-1 tie. Pinch-hitter Julio Becquer singled across one of the runs, Griggs' sacrifice fly brought in another and Herbie Plews' double drove in the other two.

Ray Moore was the beneficiary of the White Sox' four-run rally in the seventh inning of the opener. Truman Clevenger, who had relieved Washington starter Camilo Pascual in the sixth inning after the Cuban right-hander had complained of a sore shoulder, was the victim.

Billy Goodman singled home one run, Nellie Fox singled across the second and Al Smith doubled across two more when left fielder Jim Lemon misjudged his fly ball.

Bold Ruler Given 135-Pound Impost

NEW YORK (AP)—Bold Ruler, who will carry 135 pounds in Saturday's Metropolitan Mile Handicap at Belmont, worked the distance in 1 minute 38 two-fifths seconds Tuesday. There was every indication the 4-year-old Wheatley Stable thoroughbred was in shape for the $50,000 added race.

Should Bold Ruler win he will become the highest weighted horse ever to triumph in this fixture. The previous record of 134 pounds was carried by Devil Diver in 1944.

Laurel is the only track in Maryland to stage two stakes races for home-bred horses—the Maryland Derby in the spring and the Maryland Futurity in the fall.

Joey Giardello Szuzina To Meet In Plush Affair

Shoreham Is Scene Of Fight Tonight

WASHINGTON (AP) — Middleweights Joseph Giardello and Franz Szuzina will box Wednesday night on a terrace abounding with petunias, with a fountain weaving softly lit patterns of spray in the background.

Quite a strange setting for young men who spend much of their time busting other people in the chin.

But that's where they'll be, performing on the Hotel Shoreham terrace in the swankiest brawl since the Duke of Albemarle pitted his butler against his butcher.

The two middleweights are on the program for 10 rounds before an audience of celebrities and socialites. About 850 are expected, each paying $25 to dine on breast of chicken and witness the goings-on in the ring.

Their lavish contributions will benefit Big Brothers of America, an organization which helps wayward boys get on the right track.

The usual Wednesday night TV audience may also take in the plush affair (ABC, 9 p.m. EST).

Giardello, who is known as Joey outside the Shoreham, and Szuzina will be attired in their customary trunks and gloves. All others in attendance will sport black ties and evening costume.

The Pirates went down in order in the second. San Francisco made it 2-1. Orlando Cepeda and Daryl Spencer singled. Cepeda scored when Hank Sauer hit into a double play, Dick Groat to Bill Mazeroski to Stevens.

Semproch and Lonnett; Newcombe and Roseboro.

Home run—Los Angeles, Neal (10).

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Los Angeles Dodgers Tuesday night opened a three-game series with the Philadelphia Phillies to see which team rates the cellar in the National League.

Don Newcombe, looking for his first victory of the season, took the mound against Philadelphia's Ray Semproch.

The Phillies went into the game with a half-game lead over the last-place Dodgers.

Philadelphia second baseman Solly Hemus followed Richie Ashburn's lead-off walk by cracking a single through the box. However, Newcombe got out of the inning unscratched when Harry Anderson fouled out and Rip Repulski hit into a double play.

Neal Bats In Run

The Dodgers got a run in their half when Charlie Neal singled off shortstop Chico Fernandez' glove with the bases loaded. Gil Hodges ended the threat by striking out.

The Phillies went down in order in the second. Newcombe singled for the Dodgers and made second on Semproch's wild pitch. He died there when Pee Wee Reese grounded out.

Semproch singled for Philadelphia in the third. He got no farther as Ashburn and Hemus flied to Carl Furillo to end the inning. The Dodgers went down in order.

Anderson led off the fourth inning with a double to right. Willie Jones singled him home and the score was 1-1.

Neal walked in the Dodgers' fourth and Newcombe singled him to second. Gilliam grounded out to end the inning.

Phils Score Two

Philadelphia scored two runs in the fifth when Ashburn tripled with one on and scored oneHemus' single.

Furillo doubled to left center in the Dodgers' half of the inning and was still there when catcher Johnny Roseboro ended the threat by looking at a third strike.

In the sixth, Jones singled to left but was out stealing. Neal cut Philadelphia's lead to 3-2 by hitting a home run over the left field screen.

Both teams got a man on second in the seventh but failed to score.

With one out in the eighth, Repulski and Wally Post hit back-to-back singles. Furillo robbed Jones of a single witt a fine running catch and then caught Fernandez' towering fly to end the inning.

Semproch got the Dodgers out in order.

Ashburn singled for the Phillies in the ninth but Newcombe picked him off first. The Dodgers went out in order.

Washington Cops Second Contest, 5-2

Ray Moore Scores Over Clevenger In Opening Game, 5-4

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Washington Senators whipped off four double plays and got eight-hit pitching from Hal Griggs and Dick Hyde as they defeated the Chicago White Sox 5-2 in the second game of a double-header Tuesday night after the White Sox took the first game 5-4.

Four-run rallies decided both games. The Senators got theirs in the sixth inning of the nightcap to break what had been a 1-1 tie. Pinch-hitter Julio Becquer singled across one of the runs, Griggs' sacrifice fly brought in another and Herbie Plews' double drove in the other two.

Ray Moore was the beneficiary of the White Sox' four-run rally in the seventh inning of the opener. Truman Clevenger, who had relieved Washington starter Camilo Pascual in the sixth inning after the Cuban right-hander had complained of a sore shoulder, was the victim.

Billy Goodman singled home one run, Nellie Fox singled across the second and Al Smith doubled across two more when left fielder Jim Lemon misjudged his fly ball.

Bold Ruler Given 135-Pound Impost

NEW YORK (AP)—Bold Ruler, who will carry 135 pounds in Saturday's Metropolitan Mile Handicap at Belmont, worked the distance in 1 minute 38 two-fifths seconds Tuesday. There was every indication the 4-year-old Wheatley Stable thoroughbred was in shape for the $50,000 added race.

Should Bold Ruler win he will become the highest weighted horse ever to triumph in this fixture. The previous record of 134 pounds was carried by Devil Diver in 1944.

Laurel is the only track in Maryland to stage two stakes races for home-bred horses—the Maryland Derby in the spring and the Maryland Futurity in the fall.

Bill Sheetz accounted for three of the winning team's seven hits — a two-run homer, triple and single — while Stewart aided his own cause with a three-bagger and double and batted in three runs. Balch and Evans collected the hits yielded by Stewart. Jim Stratton was the losing pitcher.

Bedford Road marked up 13 hits in romping off with the nightcap affair.

Jimmy Seeders limited the Jaycees to seven hits, fanned 12 and issued seven bases on balls.

Joey Giardello Szuzina To Meet In Plush Affair

Shoreham Is Scene Of Fight Tonight

WASHINGTON (AP) — Middleweights Joseph Giardello and Franz Szuzina will box Wednesday night on a terrace abounding with petunias, with a fountain weaving softly lit patterns of spray in the background.

Quite a strange setting for young men who spend much of their time busting other people in the chin.

But that's where they'll be, performing on the Hotel Shoreham terrace in the swankiest brawl since the Duke of Albemarle pitted his butler against his butcher.

The two middleweights are on the program for 10 rounds before an audience of celebrities and socialites. About 850 are expected, each paying $25 to dine on breast of chicken and witness the goings-on in the ring.

Their lavish contributions will benefit Big Brothers of America, an organization which helps wayward boys get on the right track.

The usual Wednesday night TV audience may also take in the plush affair (ABC, 9 p.m. EST).

Giardello, who is known as Joey outside the Shoreham, and Szuzina will be attired in their customary trunks and gloves. All others in attendance will sport black ties and evening costume.

Jack Norman Is Detroit's New Manager

Minor Loop Pilot Named Successor To Jack Tighe

BOSTON (AP)—Nice guy Jack Tighe was fired Tuesday as manager of the last-place Detroit Tigers and the club dug into the minor leagues for a new field boss.

He is Bill Norman, a 47-year-old jack-of-all-trades who has been a scout and manager in the Detroit system about five years, most recently as manager at Charleston, W. Va., in the American Assn.

Tighe, 44, had the manager's job less than two seasons. Named to succeed Bucky Harris after the 1956 campaign, Tighe directed the Tigers to a first-division finish last year for the first time in seven years. Like many other American League clubs this season, the Tigers never have been able to get rolling.

Tigers Are Last

Tuesday they were dead last, 12½ games behind the league-leading New York Yankees.

General Manager John McHale joined the club in Boston at 4 a.m., summoned Tighe to a meeting just a few hours later and his office in Detroit made the announcement.

"Jack gave it everything he had," McHale said, "but it just didn't work out."

"I made up my mind Sunday that we had to make a change," added the 36-year-old general manager. "I recommended the change to the officers of the club and they concurred with me. We put the wheels in motion immediately."

McHale went to Charleston Monday for a talk with Norman. From there he came to Boston to break the news to Tighe.

"I think our club has greater potential than it has shown to date," said McHale. "That potential wasn't being realized so we made the change for the good of everybody concerned."

Popular Manager

Tighe, a popular manager who frequently talked himself into touchy situations, said he was relieved at the news.

"I'm surprised, to a degree," he added, "but not too much, though. You sit and wonder—when your club doesn't perk up you know there might be a change. Right or wrong, that's the way it always has been and that's the way it will always be."

Norman played 18 seasons of professional ball mostly as an outfielder. Twice, in 1931 and 1932, he had brief flings with the Chicago White Sox. He joined the Tiger system in 1954 and subsequently managed farm clubs at Little Rock, Terre Haute, and Charleston.

TOPS HURLERS—Bill Hook, Allegany High School senior southpaw, turned in the highest pitching average in the Allegany County Interscholastic League this season by winning eight games and losing two. He worked in 11 games for the Campers, nine of which were complete, and pitched more innings than any hurler in the league, a total of 72⅓. Two of his wins were shutouts.

Chicago Hands Warren Spahn Second Defeat

Cubs Hit Five Home Runs In 9-6 Victory

CHICAGO (AP) — Five Chicago home runs, two by Bobby Thomson, Tuesday produced all the Cub scoring in a 9-6 defeat of the Milwaukee Braves and Lefty Warren Spahn.

Spahn, suffering only his second setback against eight victories, also yielded a three-run homer to league-leader Ernie Bank, his 18th; a two-run homer to Cal Neeman; and a solo homer to Dale Long.

Hank Aaron's three-run homer in the third finished Cub starter Dick Drott, but failed to avert Milwaukee's fifth straight loss.

The victory went to Glen Hobbie, who allowed 1 run on 6 hits the last seven innings for his fourth verdict against five defeats.

Hook's 8-2 Heads Pitchers, Richards Fans 123 Batters

Fleegle, Jones Won Seven, Lost Two; Lauder's Lone Win Was No-Hit Contest

Bill Hook, Allegany High School southpaw, topped the pitchers with an 8-2 record and Dave Richards, of Beall High School, was the strikeout king of the Allegany County Interscholastic Baseball League for the 1958 season.

Hook, a senior, accounted for eight of the eleven wins scored by the Campers, who tied Fort Hill and Mt. Savage for the championship this year. He worked in 11 games, nine of which were complete, and twirled more innings than any hurler in the league, a total of 72⅓.

The all-time high average for a league pitcher was established by Enordo "Lefty" Arnone of Beall High, who posted a 12-0 record in 1951. Arnone was 9-0 in 1950 and 11-1 in 1952 and hung up a record of 21 consecutive wins in 1950 and 1951.

Richards Whiffs 123

Dave Richards, whose brother Tommy won 11 and lost three for Beall in 1953, and is now with Toronto in the International League, mowed down 123 batsmen on strikes in 70 innings this season. He appeared in 11 games for the Mountaineers this season and finished up with a 5-5 mark. The league record of 174 strikeouts belongs to Bobby Raines, of Bruce, who set the all-time high in 1952 after mowing down 166 the previous season. Richards' mark of 123 is the best since 1955 when Ronnie Rice of Beall whiffed 126. Dave equalled the performance of his brother Tommy who fired the third strike past 123 in 1953.

Runners-up in the averages this year were Wayne Fleegle, the Mt. Savage southpaw, who won seven games and lost two, and Russell Jones, Fort Hill's ace, who had a similar record. Fleegle, incidentally, wound up his high school career, with a four-year pitching record of 16 wins and 14 losses. Jesse Markley of Fort Hill, who was graduated in 1957, had a 4-year mark of 26-5 but Arnone's record of 34-2 is the best in the circuit's history.

Fort Hill's pitchers led in shutouts, Jones and Roger Manges having registered two each. Hook and Fleegle posted two shutouts each.

Lauder Hurls No-Hitter

The Sentinels suffered two 1-0 losses and one at the hands of George Lauder, of Valley High, was the only no-run, no-hit contest of the season on May 16 at Barton. That was Lauder's only win of the season. He lost five. A total of 11 shutouts were recorded during the season. Beall and Flintstone each were skunked thrice.

Mt. Savage had the longest winning streak — nine games — and Flintstone dropped 11 in a row.

Richards fanned the most batsmen in one game—17 in 10 innings. Fleegle whiffed 16 in ten innings and Richards and Charles Rice of LaSalle each had 15 victims in 7-inning contests.

A total of 136 players saw action with the eight teams this season.

Jack Norman Is Detroit's New Manager

Minor Loop Pilot Named Successor To Jack Tighe

BOSTON (AP)—Nice guy Jack Tighe was fired Tuesday as manager of the last-place Detroit Tigers and the club dug into the minor leagues for a new field boss.

He is Bill Norman, a 47-year-old jack-of-all-trades who has been a scout and manager in the Detroit system about five years, most recently as manager at Charleston, W. Va., in the American Assn.

Tighe, 44, had the manager's job less than two seasons. Named to succeed Bucky Harris after the 1956 campaign, Tighe directed the Tigers to a first-division finish last year for the first time in seven years. Like many other American League clubs this season, the Tigers never have been able to get rolling.

Tigers Are Last

Tuesday they were dead last, 12½ games behind the league-leading New York Yankees.

General Manager John McHale joined the club in Boston at 4 a.m., summoned Tighe to a meeting just a few hours later and his office in Detroit made the announcement.

"Jack gave it everything he had," McHale said, "but it just didn't work out."

"I made up my mind Sunday that we had to make a change," added the 36-year-old general manager. "I recommended the change to the officers of the club and they concurred with me. We put the wheels in motion immediately."

McHale went to Charleston Monday for a talk with Norman. From there he came to Boston to break the news to Tighe.

"I think our club has greater potential than it has shown to date," said McHale. "That potential wasn't being realized so we made the change for the good of everybody concerned."

Popular Manager

Tighe, a popular manager who frequently talked himself into touchy situations, said he was relieved at the news.

"I'm surprised, to a degree," he added, "but not too much, though. You sit and wonder—when your club doesn't perk up you know there might be a change. Right or wrong, that's the way it always has been and that's the way it will always be."

Norman played 18 seasons of professional ball mostly as an outfielder. Twice, in 1931 and 1932, he had brief flings with the Chicago White Sox. He joined the Tiger system in 1954 and subsequently managed farm clubs at Little Rock, Terre Haute, and Charleston.

TOPS HURLERS—Bill Hook, Allegany High School senior southpaw, turned in the highest pitching average in the Allegany County Interscholastic League this season by winning eight games and losing two. He worked in 11 games for the Campers, nine of which were complete, and pitched more innings than any hurler in the league, a total of 72⅓. Two of his wins were shutouts.

Cooper Choice At Wimbledon

LONDON (AP)—Odds shortened Tuesday on Ashley Cooper winning the men's singles title in the Wimbledon Tennis Championships.

A London bookmaker quoted the 21-year-old Australian as a 5-2 proposition only 24 hours after he had Cooper bracketed with Mal Anderson, another Australian who is the U.S. champion, at 3-1. Anderson remained 3-1.

The Wimbledon championships will be played from June 23-July 5.

Other odds included: 4 - 1, Mervyn Rose, Australia: 6 - 1, Neale Fraser, Australia: 8-1, Luis Ayala, Chile: 8-1, Sven Davidson, Sweden: 10 - 1, Barry MacKay, Dayton, Ohio: 14-1, Ramanathan Krishnan, India: 14 - 1 and Kurt Neilson, Denmark: 14-1.

No odds were quoted on women players.

Hook's 8-2 Heads Pitchers, Richards Fans 123 Batters

Fleegle, Jones Won Seven, Lost Two; Lauder's Lone Win Was No-Hit Contest

Bill Hook, Allegany High School southpaw, topped the pitchers with an 8-2 record and Dave Richards, of Beall High School, was the strikeout king of the Allegany County Interscholastic Baseball League for the 1958 season.

Hook, a senior, accounted for eight of the eleven wins scored by the Campers, who tied Fort Hill and Mt. Savage for the championship this year. He worked in 11 games, nine of which were complete, and twirled more innings than any hurler in the league, a total of 72⅓.

The all-time high average for a league pitcher was established by Enordo "Lefty" Arnone of Beall High, who posted a 12-0 record in 1951. Arnone was 9-0 in 1950 and 11-1 in 1952 and hung up a record of 21 consecutive wins in 1950 and 1951.

Richards Whiffs 123

Dave Richards, whose brother Tommy won 11 and lost three for Beall in 1953, and is now with Toronto in the International League, mowed down 123 batsmen on strikes in 70 innings this season. He appeared in 11 games for the Mountaineers this season and finished up with a 5-5 mark. The league record of 174 strikeouts belongs to Bobby Raines, of Bruce, who set the all-time high in 1952 after mowing down 166 the previous season. Richards' mark of 123 is the best since 1955 when Ronnie Rice of Beall whiffed 126. Dave equalled the performance of his brother Tommy who fired the third strike past 123 in 1953.

Runners-up in the averages this year were Wayne Fleegle, the Mt. Savage southpaw, who won seven games and lost two, and Russell Jones, Fort Hill's ace, who had a similar record. Fleegle, incidentally, wound up his high school career, with a four-year pitching record of 16 wins and 14 losses. Jesse Markley of Fort Hill, who was graduated in 1957, had a 4-year mark of 26-5 but Arnone's record of 34-2 is the best in the circuit's history.

Fort Hill's pitchers led in shutouts, Jones and Roger Manges having registered two each. Hook and Fleegle posted two shutouts each.

Lauder Hurls No-Hitter

The Sentinels suffered two 1-0 losses and one at the hands of George Lauder, of Valley High, was the only no-run, no-hit contest of the season on May 16 at Barton. That was Lauder's only win of the season. He lost five. A total of 11 shutouts were recorded during the season. Beall and Flintstone each were skunked thrice.

Richards fanned the most batsmen in one game—17 in 10 innings. Fleegle whiffed 16 in ten innings and Richards and Charles Rice of LaSalle each had 15 victims in 7-inning contests.

A total of 136 players saw action with the eight teams this season.

WHIFFS 123 — Dave Richards, senior righthander of the Beall High School Mountaineers, was the strikeout king of the Allegany County Interscholastic Baseball League this season, with 123 victims in 70 innings Dave won five and lost five this season, pitched in 11 of the 15 games played by the Mountain City team, and wound up his high school career with an 8 -10 record. His 123 strikeouts equaled the 1953 performance of his brother Tommy, former Beall ace, now pitching for Toronto in the International League.

Chicago Hands Warren Spahn Second Defeat

Cubs Hit Five Home Runs In 9-6 Victory

CHICAGO (AP) — Five Chicago home runs, two by Bobby Thomson, Tuesday produced all the Cub scoring in a 9-6 defeat of the Milwaukee Braves and Lefty Warren Spahn.

Spahn, suffering only his second setback against eight victories, also yielded a three-run homer to league-leader Ernie Bank, his 18th; a two-run homer to Cal Neeman; and a solo homer to Dale Long.

Hank Aaron's three-run homer in the third finished Cub starter Dick Drott, but failed to avert Milwaukee's fifth straight loss.

The victory went to Glen Hobbie, who allowed 1 run on 6 hits the last seven innings for his fourth verdict against five defeats.

True Verdict Cops Feature At Monmouth

Sand Boy, 42 To 1 Shot, Finishes 2nd

OCEANPORT, N. J., June 10 (AP) — Jockey Howard Grant drove favored True Verdict to a going away triumph in today's $17,425 Oceanport Handicap, feature of Monmouth Park's opening day program before a crowd of 16,346 who witnessed the card on a foggy day.

True Verdict, owned by William G. Helis Jr., of New Orleans, led George W. Parker's Sand Boy a 42-1 shot, by a length and a half. Sand Boy was a neck before C. Mahlon Kline's Beau Pilot who enjoyed a head's margin over Victory Stable's Sonny Dan in the field of 11.

In winning his first stakes triumph, True Verdict survived an objection lodged by Richard Lawless, rider of Beau Pilot. Lawless himself was a target of an objection lodged by Walter Blum, handler of Sonny Dan. The stewards upheld the original order of finish after viewing films of the event.

True Verdict, in notching his fourth success in six starts this season paid $5.80, $4.20 and $3.60 and ran the six panels in 1.10 3/5 over a fast trick. The track record of 1.08 2/5 was set by Decathlon in last year's Oceanport.

Sand Boy returned his scattered backers $20.60 to place and $11.20 to show while Beau Pilot paid $8.60.

While True Verdict, a 4-year old son of Attention out of Goyette, was providing Grant, last year's leading rider here, with his first victory of the day, Jockey Willie Hartack highlighted the earlier programs with three victories and two thirds.

Hartack, the nation's leading rider the past three years, guided Real Request ($10.00) to a triumph in the first race and captured the fourth and fifth astride Cyprian Cat ($8.80) and Subway Strike $9.60, respectively. Hartack led Monmouth's riders in 1954, his last year of regular competition at this seashore track.

Adair To Manage Charleston Club

CHARLESTON (AP) — A new manager was at the helm of Charleston's second-place Senators Tuesday night as the result of extensive reshuffling brought about by the firing of Tiger Manager Jack Tighe.

Bill Norman, 47, brought to Charleston last July to inject new life into the lagging Senators, was the choice of the Detroit Tigers' front office to replace Tighe.

Norman, who flew to Boston this morning to take over Tiger managerial reins in Tuesday night's game with the Boston Red Sox, was succeeded in Charleston by Bill Adair, 40, of the Augusta, Ga., club of the Sally League.

Adair arrived by plane from Augusta, where his team also was in second place. Under Adair, Augusta won the Sally League pennant last season.

Adair is married and the father of two girls. He was succeeded at Augusta by Wayne Blackburn, a Detroit scout.

Still the most modern and effortless window screen

Columbia-matic TENSION SCREEN

There's no more handsome or more modernly efficient window screen than the Columbia-matic Tension Screen, yet it costs no more than an ordinary screen. Full-length, all-aluminum screens that don't interfere with the operation of the window . . . that fit tight-as-a-drum to the outside of the frame, Columbia-matics give complete bug-proof protection and take practically no effort to install, use and maintain.

Installed in minutes, taken down in seconds, the frameless Columbia-matic screens roll up neatly, compactly for storage anywhere — on a shelf, in a box, in a corner of the cellar. They're warp-proof, rust-proof, stain-proof and never need painting or adjusting.

True Verdict Cops Feature At Monmouth

Sand Boy, 42 To 1 Shot, Finishes 2nd

OCEANPORT, N. J., June 10 (AP) — Jockey Howard Grant drove favored True Verdict to a going away triumph in today's $17,425 Oceanport Handicap, feature of Monmouth Park's opening day program before a crowd of 16,346 who witnessed the card on a foggy day.

True Verdict, owned by William G. Helis Jr., of New Orleans, led George W. Parker's Sand Boy a 42-1 shot, by a length and a half. Sand Boy was a neck before C. Mahlon Kline's Beau Pilot who enjoyed a head's margin over Victory Stable's Sonny Dan in the field of 11.

In winning his first stakes triumph, True Verdict survived an objection lodged by Richard Lawless, rider of Beau Pilot. Lawless himself was a target of an objection lodged by Walter Blum, handler of Sonny Dan. The stewards upheld the original order of finish after viewing films of the event.

True Verdict, in notching his fourth success in six starts this season paid $5.80, $4.20 and $3.60 and ran the six panels in 1.10 3/5 over a fast trick. The track record of 1.08 2/5 was set by Decathlon in last year's Oceanport.

Sand Boy returned his scattered backers $20.60 to place and $11.20 to show while Beau Pilot paid $8.60.

While True Verdict, a 4-year old son of Attention out of Goyette, was providing Grant, last year's leading rider here, with his first victory of the day, Jockey Willie Hartack highlighted the earlier programs with three victories and two thirds.

Hartack, the nation's leading rider the past three years, guided Real Request ($10.00) to a triumph in the first race and captured the fourth and fifth astride Cyprian Cat ($8.80) and Subway Strike $9.60, respectively. Hartack led Monmouth's riders in 1954, his last year of regular competition at this seashore track.

Adair To Manage Charleston Club

CHARLESTON (AP) — A new manager was at the helm of Charleston's second-place Senators Tuesday night as the result of extensive reshuffling brought about by the firing of Tiger Manager Jack Tighe.

Bill Norman, 47, brought to Charleston last July to inject new life into the lagging Senators, was the choice of the Detroit Tigers' front office to replace Tighe.

Norman, who flew to Boston this morning to take over Tiger managerial reins in Tuesday night's game with the Boston Red Sox, was succeeded in Charleston by Bill Adair, 40, of the Augusta, Ga., club of the Sally League.

Adair arrived by plane from Augusta, where his team also was in second place. Under Adair, Augusta won the Sally League pennant last season.

Adair is married and the father of two girls. He was succeeded at Augusta by Wayne Blackburn, a Detroit scout.

Still the most modern and effortless window screen
Columbia-matic
TENSION SCREEN

There's no more handsome or more modernly efficient window screen than the Columbia-matic Tension Screen, yet it costs no more than an ordinary screen. Full-length, all-aluminum screens that don't interfere with the operation of the window . . . that fit tight-as-a-drum to the outside of the frame, Columbia-matics give complete bug-proof protection and take practically no effort to install, use and maintain.

Installed in minutes, taken down in seconds, the frameless Columbia-matic screens roll up neatly, compactly for storage anywhere — on a shelf, in a box, in a corner of the cellar. They're warp-proof, rust-proof, stain-proof and never need painting or adjusting.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, June 10—Tyrone Power brought his bride, Debbie Smith Minardos, to call on me. They are remaining in Beverly Hills until they sail August 8 on the S.S. Liberte for London. After a visit there they go on to Rome for "Solomon and Sheba" in which Ty co-stars with Gina Lollobrigida. He's already growing a beard for his role and I must say he looks very distinguished.

"I'll be gone almost a year," Ty told me. "You see, after I finish 'Solomon and Sheba' we go to Sweden for 'The Stalk' and then to South America for 'The Lost Steps.' Irwin Shaw, who did such a great job on 'The Young Lions; is doing the screenplay for 'Lost Steps.'"

I am reading "Chains of Fear," the inside story of a Russian secret police official now appearing in a current magazine. The story is so hot that it was turned down by 16 publishers before the Henry Regnery Company of Chicago accepted it.

One movie company in Berlin offered $75,000 for the screen rights, but the White Russian officer who wrote it is now living in retirement in Monterey, California, and he wants his story filmed in Hollywood. Producer Charles Schnee of Columbia Studio is interested and is making a big offer for the screen rights.

A telegram from New York with news that Henry Fonda and Dorothy McGuire are practically set for Joe Mankiewicz's new play, a dramatization of Carl Jonas' novel "Jefferson Selleck."

It's been quite a time since Joe's been in Hollywood—but he also has a new picture up his sleeve. Mankiewicz has bought "Showcase" Martin Dibner's unpublished novel which Doubleday will bring out August 7. It's about the inside workings of a big Fifth Avenue department store calling for three top stars. Joe will script, direct and produce "Showcase" for his Figaro Company.

Marie McDonald called from Paramount Studio where she was having fittings for Jerry Lewis' picture "Geisha Boy."

"I can't tell you how grateful I am to Jerry for this fine role," she said. She left Monday for Dallas for a two-week engagement at the Statler-Hilton, returning June 27 for the Lewis picture.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

I keep hearing that Barry Sullivan and Gita Hall were secretly married in Mexico. Whether the rumor is true or not, they will marry here when Barry's divorce is final June 24.

Eddie Fisher is home from the hospital but it's definite he won't be well enough to open at the Tropicana June 11 so he's asked for a week's postponement. They wanted Debbie to sub for him but Martin, is becoming a spot for entertainers. Judy Garland stepped in and sang for her supper, so did Sammy Davis, Jr., and Dean is there every night. Congratulations to Dean — Saturday was his birthday.

Hear from Paris that Julie Styne and Binky Beaumont are going to produce "Le Mama" — it's a hit in Paris—and they're trying to get Anna Magnani for the lead.

Kathryn Crosby is having a nursery installed in their Holmby Hills home while Bing is fishing. It will be designed around the statue of two cherubs which Bing gave Kathy.

I have been looking at the old Clark Gable movies on TV and he has far more appeal today than he had 20 years ago.

That's all today. See you tomorrow!

If It Moves It's A Hit

BRUSSELS

If I were designing an exhibit at a World's Fair, I would be sure that something moved. Everything that moves here stops the show, including some pretty odd things. The Netherlands pavilion, a very popular one, has created an artificial hunk of seashore with a full-scale wave that beats on the shore to show the action of the sea on Holland's coast. People stare at it entranced as if a wave were the most unusual thing in the world.

Similarly, in the Austrian pavilion, there is a nursery for children where they play store, draw on blackboards and do the things kids always do. People watch them through the plate-glass windows as if they had never seen children before. In our pavilion, the models have the same hypnotic effect. In the French pavilion, an African native, doing something or other with a piece of leather attracts crowds who can't possibly have the faintest idea what he's doing. Conversely, Russia's Sputnik, certainly the most important exhibit in its way at the fair, does not attack much more than momentary attention because it just hangs there.

There are always surprises at a World's Fair. Here, everyone is talking about the Czechoslovakian pavilion which is beautifully designed and wonderfully interesting. The Czech restaurant is widely touted as the best at the fair, though the Czechs are not especially noted for cuisine. Meanwhile, our own Brass Rail and the Russian restaurant are getting equally terrible notices for both their food and service.

The Israeli pavilion is tiny by the standards of the big boys, but it is superbly used. Its simple dignified displays just breathe the spirit of a new and vigorous nation and its little restaurant—a delicatessen really—in a grove of trees is a haven of serenity in the bustling and noisy fair grounds. One thing you get too much of, not only at this World's Fair, but at any World's Fair, is machinery. At the Israeli pavilion, there is no machinery. In its stead are baskets, hanging from the ceiling, of oranges and grapefruit. We have all seen oranges and grapefruit before but somehow, after all that machinery, these seem like splendid displays which, like Austria's children, are novel and beautiful and well worth staring at.

While children and oranges are unknown in our "country," we do have color television and this is one of the big hits of the pavilion. RCA has built a little theater where you can watch the entertainment on the stage and also on color monitors. Theoretically, people are supposed to watch for fifteen minutes and then go away but getting them to move on is quite a problem, chairs being at a premium here.

A couple of young Americans, Jack Crutcher and John Schwartz, have the lovely problem of programming eight hours of television a day with no money to speak of—a task that would whiten the hair of anyone on Madison Avenue—and yet they they're having a ball. "It's like the early days of television," says Crutcher. "We just throw the book away and do what we like."

Anyone, claim to fame or not, gets interviewed at the RCA exhibit in a variety of languages. Elizabeth Arden was planning a Cinderella program, plucking women from the audience and beautifying the hell out of them in living color right before the audience.

The color TV display is strictly a closed circuit proposition, none of it going on the air. However, at the press building, Belgian TV program three hours of World's Fair every day. Again, this takes a lot of ingenuity. Operating out of a couple of tiny studios, the Belgians grab visiting dignitaries and interview them in their own language and then translate it into either Flemish or French, a tedious business. The fair teems with colorful costumes and handicrafts and the Belgian TV manages to get much of this on the air, plus, of course, the songs and dances in the dozens of languages.

Eurovision got Benny Goodman and his band for nothing and the Belgians would dearly love to get all our attractions that way. However, performing rights, union rules and copyright laws make this difficult. No matter how you try to explain this, the Belgians refuse to understand it. "We want it to be free," said Bert Leysen, who is in charge of the Flemish telecasts on this bifurcated country. "We don't care who pays for it so long as we get it for nothing. In Russia somebody pays. Somebody should pay in America." It's very hard to explain that we capitalists are too poor to offer our performers to the Europeans as freely as the Russians.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, June 10—Tyrone Power brought his bride, Debbie Smith Minardos, to call on me. They are remaining in Beverly Hills until they sail August 8 on the S.S. Liberte for London. After a visit there they go on to Rome for "Solomon and Sheba" in which Ty co-stars with Gina Lollobrigida. He's already growing a beard for his role and I must say he looks very distinguished.

"I'll be gone almost a year," Ty told me. "You see, after I finish 'Solomon and Sheba' we go to Sweden for 'The Stalk' and then to South America for 'The Lost Steps.'" Irwin Shaw, who did such a great job on 'The Young Lions; is doing the screenplay for 'Lost Steps.'"

I am reading "Chains of Fear," the inside story of a Russian secret police official now appearing in a current magazine. The story is so hot that it was turned down by 16 publishers before the Henry Regnery Company of Chicago accepted it.

One movie company in Berlin offered $75,000 for the screen rights, but the White Russian officer who wrote it is now living in retirement in Monterey, California, and he wants his story filmed in Hollywood. Producer Charles Schnee of Columbia Studio is interested and is making a big offer for the screen rights.

A telegram from New York with news that Henry Fonda and Dorothy McGuire are practically set for Joe Mankiewicz's new play, a dramatization of Carl Jonas' novel "Jefferson Selleck."

It's been quite a time since Joe's been in Hollywood—but he also has a new picture up his sleeve. Mankiewicz has bought "Showcase" Martin Dibner's unpublished novel which Doubleday will bring out August 7. It's about the inside workings of a big Fifth Avenue department store calling for three top stars. Joe will script, direct and produce "Showcase" for his Figaro Company.

Marie McDonald called from Paramount Studio where she was having fittings for Jerry Lewis' picture "Geisha Boy."

"I can't tell you how grateful I am to Jerry for this fine role," she said. She left Monday for Dallas for a two-week engagement at the Statler-Hilton, returning June 27 for the Lewis picture.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

I keep hearing that Barry Sullivan and Gita Hall were secretly married in Mexico. Whether the rumor is true or not, they will marry here when Barry's divorce is final June 24.

Eddie Fisher is home from the hospital but it's definite he won't be well enough to open at the Tropicana June 11 so he's asked for a week's postponement. They wanted Debbie to sub for him but Martin, is becoming a spot for entertainers. Judy Garland stepped in and sang for her supper, so did Sammy Davis, Jr., and Dean is there every night. Congratulations to Dean — Saturday was his birthday.

Hear from Paris that Julie Styne and Binky Beaumont are going to produce "Le Mama" — it's a hit in Paris—and they're trying to get Anna Magnani for the lead.

Kathryn Crosby is having a nursery installed in their Holmby Hills home while Bing is fishing. It will be designed around the statue of two cherubs which Bing gave Kathy.

I have been looking at the old Clark Gable movies on TV and he has far more appeal today than he had 20 years ago.

That's all today. See you tomorrow!

Eurovision got Benny Goodman and his band for nothing and the Belgians would dearly love to get all our attractions that way. However, performing rights, union rules and copyright laws make this difficult. No matter how you try to explain this, the Belgians refuse to understand it. "We want it to be free," said Bert Leysen, who is in charge of the Flemish telecasts on this bifurcated country. "We don't care who pays for it so long as we get it for nothing. In Russia somebody pays. Somebody should pay in America." It's very hard to explain that we capitalists are too poor to offer our performers to the Europeans as freely as the Russians.

False Alarm Search

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—For two hours Washtenaw County sheriffs' men dragged the Huron River near Dexter after a boy's hat was found floating in the water.

Officers kept calling a telephone number written inside the hat. Finally Sunday night they reached the number of John N. Munday, of Dearborn.

"My son John Jr., 7, insisted on my taking him fishing," said Munday. "We fished all day and it ended with junior falling overboard. I fished him out, but he lost his hat. Sorry if it caused you trouble."

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
2 spades	Pass	3 spades	Pass
4 diamonds	Pass	4 spades	Pass
6 spades	Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening lead: Jack of spades.

Today's hand is one of the most remarkable that has ever come to my attention, in that the declarer has five chances to make his contract and if he plays properly can avail himself of all five possibilities in succession.

The bidding was rather peculiar. South opened with two spades and North raised to three. South instantly decided that his partner had the king of spades and some other trick-taking possibilities and decided to contract for a slam forthwith.

West opened the jack of spades, which declarer won with the queen. Declarer's five chances are as follows:

1. If the ace of clubs is with West, the contract is assured because the king of clubs will provide a discard for the losing diamond. That play should be tried first.

2. If that fails, there is a chance that the trumps will break two-two, then the ace, king, and queen of hearts can be cashed and the king of spades will be an entry to cash the long heart, upon which to discard the losing diamond. The second t...mp should be led at this point.

3. If the ace of clubs is wrong and the trumps fail to break, there is the hope that the queen of diamonds will drop on the second round. That play should be tried now.

4. If that fails, there is a hope that the hearts will break three-three, so that the ace, king, and queen can be cashed before the last trump is drawn.

5. If the hearts fail to break, there is the chance that the player with the four hearts still has the remaining trump, in which case the king of spades will be an entry after the last trump is extracted to cash the jack of hearts.

Notice that in order to avail yourself of all five chances, your plays must be made in exactly the sequence indicated above. It is improper to lead the second trump immediately, because if the ace of clubs in with East, he might be the one with the third trump and would return it immediately.

NEW YORK (AP) — Coppers spurted on the government's stockpiling proposal but the stock market as a whole underwent a moderate decline Tuesday.

Key stocks lost from fractions to about a point. The gainers added as much as 2 points or more in some cases.

The market was irregular in early trading. An unusual number of large blocks changed hands and the ticker tape was late for a brief period at the start. Gradually a lower tone asserted itself. In the final half hour coppers and the other gainers made their best strides.

The coppers had higher world prices and a prive boost at the custom smelter level to help them at the start but they made little progress until late in the day. The administration's stockpiling proposal was anticipated well before the news was out. It led to a sudden spurt in copper shares.

Steels backed away from recent gains as they continued to respond to Monday's news of the price cuts in the Detroit area. Bethlehem was affected additionally by the Navy's cancellation of some $490,000,000 in shipbuilding and conversion work.

The market as a whole was in a difficult technical zone, near its latest high for 1958 where considerable stock was for sale. Price behavior of various stocks was erratic.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks fell 50 cents to $172.00 with the industrials down 50 cents, the rails down $1.10 and the utilities up 10 cents.

1. If the ace of clubs is with West, the contract is assured because the king of clubs will provide a discard for the losing diamond. That play should be tried first.

2. If that fails, there is a chance that the trumps will break two-two, then the ace, king, and queen of hearts can be cashed and the king of spades will be an entry to cash the long heart, upon which to discard the losing diamond. The second t...mp should be led at this point.

3. If the ace of clubs is wrong and the trumps fail to break, there is the hope that the queen of diamonds will drop on the second round. That play should be tried now.

4. If that fails, there is a hope that the hearts will break three-three, so that the ace, king, and queen can be cashed before the last trump is drawn.

5. If the hearts fail to break, there is the chance that the player with the four hearts still has the remaining trump, in which case the king of spades will be an entry after the last trump is extracted to cash the jack of hearts.

Notice that in order to avail yourself of all five chances, your plays must be made in exactly the sequence indicated above. It is improper to lead the second trump immediately, because if the ace of clubs in with East, he might be the one with the third trump and would return it immediately.

NEW YORK (AP) — Coppers spurted on the government's stockpiling proposal but the stock market as a whole underwent a moderate decline Tuesday.

Key stocks lost from fractions to about a point. The gainers added as much as 2 points or more in some cases.

The market was irregular in early trading. An unusual number of large blocks changed hands and the ticker tape was late for a brief period at the start. Gradually a lower tone asserted itself. In the final half hour coppers and the other gainers made their best strides.

The coppers had higher world prices and a prive boost at the custom smelter level to help them at the start but they made little progress until late in the day. The administration's stockpiling proposal was anticipated well before the news was out. It led to a sudden spurt in copper shares.

Steels backed away from recent gains as they continued to respond to Monday's news of the price cuts in the Detroit area. Bethlehem was affected additionally by the Navy's cancellation of some $490,000,000 in shipbuilding and conversion work.

The market as a whole was in a difficult technical zone, near its latest high for 1958 where considerable stock was for sale. Price behavior of various stocks was erratic.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks fell 50 cents to $172.00 with the industrials down 50 cents, the rails down $1.10 and the utilities up 10 cents.

Magistrate Gets Support In Fight Over Expenses

County Should Pay, Legal Office Rules

Trial Magistrate J. Milton Dick yesterday was upheld by an opinion from the Attorney General's office in his fight with the Board of Allegany County Commissioners over payment of expenses incurred in attending various magistrates' meetings.

Mr. Dick, president of the State Trial Magistrates Association, was informed on May 29 by letter from James Stevenson, clerk for the county commissioners, that in the future the county would not pay for trips to committee meetings of the association.

The commissioners contended that the county's mandate to pay expenses to magistrates for attending association meetings does not extend to committee meetings. Magistrate Dick said the bill passed several years ago provided for payment of all expenses to all meetings. He wrote to the attorney general for an opinion.

Text Of Letter

The letter to Mr. Dick from Stedman Prescott Jr., deputy attorney general, said:

"In your recent letter you asked whether or not under the provisions of Article 52, Section 115 of the Annotated Code of Maryland, (1957 edition) you are entitled to recover from the County Commissioners of Allegany County all reasonable and necessary expenses incurred in attending meetings of the committees of the State Trial Magistrates Association.

"Section 115 (c) reads as follows:

" 'Dues to Magistrates Association of Allegany County magistrates—The County Commissioners of Allegany County shall pay the annual membership dues in the State Trial Magistrates Association for each trial magistrate of Allegany County who becomes a member thereof, together with all reasonable and necessary expenses incurred while attending any meeting of said association.'

"A meeting is any assembly of a number of persons for the purpose of transacting business in which they have a common interest, American Brass Company vs. Mill and Smelter Works, Conn. 101, Atl. 2d 191. In Talton vs. Behmke, 199 Fed. 2d, 474, the court said, 'It would seem that the explanation "any meeting" needs no definition; it is all-conclusive without limitation or restriction, equivalent to "all" and "every." x x x x'

Language Is Clear

"It is reasonable to believe that the legislature knew that the association was conducting much of its business through its committees since the association's constitution and by-laws provided for its committees at the time the legislation was enacted and therefore specifically provided for the reimbursement of expenses incurred in attending those committee meetings. Had the legislature intended that the county only pay for your attendance at general meetings to which the entire membership was invited it could have said so in so many words. It is clear from the language used that it intended that expenses for attendance at all meetings be paid. Attendance at committee meetings is just as important and in many cases it is even more important than attendance at general meetings.

"Since committee meetings, as well as general meetings, are matters of the State Trial Magistrates Association we are of the opinion that the County Commissioners for Allegany County are obligated to pay all reasonable and necessary expenses for your attendance at those committee meetings."

The controversy began a few years ago when the commissioners said they had no authority to pay expenses incurred by magistrates. The authority was granted in a bill passed later through the efforts of the county delegation to the legislature.

Magistrate Dick said he would write to the commissioners today asking that their decision be rescinded.

Lonaconing's Phone Service Is Expanded

New Dial Circuits Added To Exchange

In Order to provide additional service and telephone circuits for the Lonaconing area, a $10,000 project has been completed by the local Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company, placing the Georges Creek community in more direct communication with Cumberland and other nearby towns.

Direct dial equipment has been added to the Lonaconing branch office and more telephone circuits have been placed between Lonaconing and Cumberland.

It is now possible for Lonaconing subscribers to dial Cumberland telephone numbers directly instead of contacting the Cumberland operator. Cumberland users previously have been able to dial Lonaconing numbers directly.

Circuits also were added from Lonaconing to Frostburg and numbers in the latter exchange now may be obtained simply by dialing "8" for the Frostburg operator. Cumberland subscribers still get the Frostburg operator by dialing "689"

Under the new circuit setup, C&P officials stated, the operator for Piedmont, W. Va., and Westernport numbers may be reached from Lonaconing by dialing "355." This bypasses Cumberland operators who formerly were called and, in turn, called the Piedmont and Westernport operators.

Equipment also was added in the central office at Lonaconing to permit the transfer of calls under most circumstances. This is primarily to intercept calls where telephone numebrs have been changed.

In order to expand the circuit arrangements some Lonaconing subscribers have obtained new telephone numbers. A listing of these numbers is available in the Cumberland business office.

The change in the Lonaconing system is another step in the conversion from manual to dial operation in the tri-state area.

Frostburg's exchange is expected to be converted from manual operation to dial by November 30 when Cumberland, Lonaconing and other communities will be able to dial directly for Frostburg numbers.

City Readies Program For Playgrounds

Nine-Week Season To Open June 23

Plans for the summer playground program are being completed by the staff of the City Recreation Department.

The playgrounds will open on June 23 and remain open for the usual nine weeks, according to Eugene Mason, rec director.

Members of the 25-member playground staff will be attending the annual playground leaders institute during the week of June 16.

Mr. Mason said the department's maintenance staff began to distribute heavy equipment, such as swings and see-saws, to the playgrounds on Monday.

The distribution will be completed, he said, shortly before the 15 playgrounds are officially opened.

Larger playgrounds will be staffed by a play director and leader and the smaller grounds will be operated by a director. Staffers are being selected.

Mr. Mason said the playground program and events will be basically the same as last year but that new group and individual games will be used to brighten up the program.

Among the selections which will be featured at the band's opening concert are the Raymond Overture, the St. Louis Blues March and a baritone horn solo, "Trees," by Joseph K. Trenton, local insurance man.

The public is invited to attend the free concert.

Drop In Auto Sales Affects City's Income

Car Taxes Used For Thruway Share

Decreases in the sales of new automobiles affect the income of the City of Cumberland, according to Arthur B. Gibson, city auditor.

Slack car sales reduce the city's share in the gasoline tax and motor vehicle revenues collected by the state and shared with divisions of the state under the Sherbow Plan.

Mr. Gibson said the revenue usually listed as gasoline taxes, comes from two sources, taxes collected on gasoline sales and the state tax on new motor vehicles.

About one-fourth of the gas and auto revenues are derived from the new car sales and the total income to the city from both sources has varied from $58,288.87 for the 1950-51 fiscal year to the $89,826.47 share in the 1955-56 fiscal year.

That was the last year in which the city directly shared in the state income source, as the State Roads Commission during the 1956-57 fiscal year began using it to meet the city's obligation toward the Cumberland Thruway.

According to the Thruway contract, the city promised to make available from gas tax and motor vehicle revenues as match money for available federal-aid funds the amount of $70,000 annually for 1954 through 1960.

The effect was to deprive the city of the gas and auto monies which went into the general fund and paid a considerable part of the Street Department budget.

The revenue source will be available again if the $500,000 Urban Development bond issue is approved at next Tuesday's municipal's election, and the funds are used to meet the Thruway obligation.

During the 1956-57 fiscal year, funds withheld for the Thruway obligation totaled $93,826.51 with 79 per cent of the fund from gas taxes and 21 per cent from new car sales.

Mr. Gibson said the city has received no word on the city's share of the revenues during the present fiscal year.

The city's share of taxes on new car sales was 31 per cent of gas and auto taxes in 1950-51, 27 per cent in 1951-52, 25 per cent in 1952-53 and 21 per cent in 1953-54.

Frostburg Auto Submits Apparent Low Truck Bid

The Frostburg Auto Company submitted the apparent low net bid for three new dump trucks for the Allegany County Roads Department, a figure of $12,600, including allowances for three used trucks.

Five bids were received and were referred to Gorman E. Getty, attorney, J. Walker Chapman, roads supervisor, for tabulation and report, probably next week.

Other bidders were St. George Motor Company, this city, $4,595 net for each truck, a total of $13,785; Collins GMC Truck Company, Baltimore Pike, $5,263, $5,063 and $5,063, or a total for all three of $14,889.15; Heiskell Motor Sales, Frostburg, $5,859 for each truck less $500 allowance or $5,369 each, a grand total of $16,107; The Light and Decker Company, this city, $7,931.75 each, less allowances of $1,900 each on two used trucks and $1,800 on the third, a grand total of $18,195.25.

Assembly Fight Over Jobless Pay Foreseen

No Rubber Stamp, Says Turnbull

BALTIMORE (AP) — Another sign went up Tuesday that Friday's special session of the General Assembly will not be cut and dried.

Sen. Goodman (D-Balto 5th) proclaimed he will oppose authorization for two proposed Baltimore City loans unless they are in more specific form than outlined.

The city administration wants to ask the voters in November to double the amount of a civic center loan to 12 million dollars and authorize 25 million as part of a downtown rehabilitation project.

Goodman said he will go along only if the proposals set a time limit on spending the loan and include "definite and specific plans" for construction.

At least two delegates from the city also announced they will have many questions.

Sen. Turnbull (D-Balto County) also has said he expects considerable searching of the reason for calling the special session—temporary extension of jobless pay benefits from 26 to 39 weeks.

Others Opposed

He let it be known he was not going to rubber stamp the proposal and that he knew of "seven or eight other senators" who oppose it.

Del. Mandel (D-Balto 5th), chairman of the city delegation, had suspected there might be considerable floor oratory on the loans unless the air was cleared beforehand.

He had intended to summon the 35 other delegates and ask the 6 senators to attend an advance meeting in the city.

But Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro vetoed it, saying "full hearings will be held in Annapolis."

Members of the finance committees from both houses will assemble Thursday afternoon to hash over the proposed extension of weekly unemployment benefits.

Turnbull said they will listen as long as midnight, if necessary.

Legislative leaders have agreed in conference with Gov. McKeldin to take up only the loans and the jobless pay. But some leaders said privately this wasn't their fear of reconvening.

Elections are coming up in November, they said pointedly. Some candidates might seize the opportunity to try to make political hay. Others, already defeated in the primary or retiring, may want to have a last fling at floor oratory or start early on an effort to return to office.

New Senator Named

The latest switch in the legislative makeup was made Tuesday.

J. Raymond Buffington Jr. was named interim Democratic state senator from Baltimore's Third District. Buffington will fill the seat of Thomas F. Dempsey, who decided not to seek re-election and then was appointed chief traffic magistrate of Baltimore City.

Buffington, a member of the House for 16 years, won the Democratic nomination for the Senate seat May 20. He will be opposed by Samuel Culotta, a Republican delegate from the district for the past four years.

The Democratic central committee from the Third District named Robert Sweeney to take Bufflington's seat in the House at Friday's special session.

Flowers Planted In Park Areas

Flowers were being planted in city park areas this week, according to Mrs. Marguerite Findlay, Park Board member.

let sage and coleus were planted in the areas at Race and Seymour streets, Maryland Avenue and Williams Street and at Valley and Furnace streets.

Spring bulbs, she said, have been dug up and stored at Allegany Historical Society headquarters.

Garden Club Donates To Helen Miller Memorial

The Garden Club of Cumberland voted to donate $250 to the Helen Miller Memorial Fund after hearing a report on the fund's progress from Rudolph Steinberger, vice president of the fund committee, at a meeting Monday night.

Purpose of the fund is to set up a small natural park devoted to birds and flowers in memory of Mrs. Miller, who was president of the club at the time of her death in March.

If there's enough money on hand when the project is started, a memorial plaque may be included.

No drive or solicitation for funds wil lbe conducted, but the club said it hopes individuals and organizations will contribute, first, in recognition of Mrs. Miller's work to beautify the city and county; and, second, to help provide a beauty spot that everyone can enjoy.

Contributions may be sent to Charles A. Piper, treasurer of the Helen Mfller Memorial Fund, Liberty Trust Building, Cumberland. Former Chief Judge George Henderson, president of the fund, said progress reports will be issued periodically.

At Monday's meeting, the club elected Mrs. George Henderson president. Mrs. William P. Durland was elected first vice president; Mrs. Rudolph Steinberger, second vice president; Mrs. Robert Horstman, recording secretary; Harry Miller, treasurer, and Mrs. James Pitkethly, corresponding secretary.

The club also heard an announcement that the Fifth District Federation of Garden Clubs of Maryland will hold its fifth annual flower show Tuesday, September 30, at St. John's Episcopal Church, Hagerstown. The show, based on the theme "Around the World," will be open from 2 to 8:30 p.m.

Man Killed When Shot By Own Gun

Joseph S. Smith, 50, of Star Route, Everett, Pa., was fatally wounded yesterday morning when he was shot by his own gun in a freak accident which occurred as he was getting out of his car.

Deputy Coroner Ralph Mickle ruled the death accidental. Authorities surmise that Mr. Smith, an ardent groundhog hunter, was getting out of his car when a .22 calibre rifle slid across the seat of the auto and fired. The bullet hit the victim in the back of his head.

Police believe the accident occurred about 9 a.m. along Piney Creek Road, Monroe Township, about three miles from the victim's home.

About 9:30 a.m. his body was found by Earl Mills who lives nearby. The victim's body was removed to the Conner Funeral Home in Everett.

Police said the victim lived alone.

Paul M. Arbogast, 742 Baker Street, yesterday was appointed principal of Johnson Heights Elementary School, Superintendent of Schools Ralph R. Webster announced.

Mr. Arbogast, who has been principal of McCoole Elementary School the past five years, will succeed Miss Loretto McGeady, who is one of three veteran teachers in the Allegany County school system retiring now that the school year has ended.

The new Johnson Heights principal is a native of Elkins, W. Va., and began his teaching career in 1942 at Morgantown (W. Va.) Junior High School.

Elkins High Graduate

After graduation from Elkins High School in 1938, Mr. Arbogast studied two years at Davis and Elkins College in his home town and then transferred to West Virginia University, from which he was graduated in 1942.

His one year as a teacher in Morgantown was followed by three years of active duty in the Navy, where he served in the Pacific theatre. He has continued in the Naval Reserve, where he holds the rank of commander and is commanding officer of Surface Division 5-9, which won the coveted James Forrestal Trophy last November as the outstanding surface division in the nation.

Mr. Arbogast has taken graduate work at Johns Hopkins University and West Virginia University, where he received his master's degree in 1953.

Md. Democrats Hold Unusual 'Love Feast'

Convention Dull But Harmonious

By LOUIS G. PANOS

BALTIMORE (AP) — With only one anxious moment marring an air of quiet confidence, the Maryland Democratic Convention Tuesday performed the ritual of nominating candidates for the November elections.

It was, as described by National Committee Chairman Paul M. Butler, "a real love feast."

It was also a dull show by any standards and especially dull for a political party which in recent years has been known for its uproarious meetings.

The Accomplishments

After nearly five hours of squirming in their seats and politely applauding dozens of speeches, the 152 delegates could look back on these accomplishments:

1. Formalizing the nomination of statewide candidates who emerged from the May 20 primary unopposed or undefeated — J. Millard Tawes for governor, Thomas D'Alesandro for U.S. Senate, Louis L. Goldstein for comptroller, Atty. Gen. C. Ferdinand Sybert for re-election.

2. Adoption of a platform blasting the national Republican administration, offering a delicately worded promise to continue a search for a "legal and reasonable" solution to the racial problem, and pledging steps to give Baltimore City and the larger counties more equitable representation in the General Assembly.

The Anxious Moment

The anxious moment came with the entrance of George P. Mahoney, defeated senatorial aspirant into the convention hall on the Hotel Emerson mezzanine. Defeated for a fifth time and regarded by some as a symbol of everlasting factional warfare which has crippled the party in previous general elections, he had been waiting for hours in a fifth floor room of the hotel.

D'Alesandro's name had just been formally presented to the convention. It was seconded by Dr. Clarence Long, another of his vanquished opponents in the seven-way primary. James Bruce, who had run third to D'Alesandro and Mahoney, had moved that D'Alesandro's nomination be made unanimous by the delegates.

Permanent Chairman T. Barton Harrington then recognized Mahoney as the next speaker.

Dramatic Entrance

Into the hall came Mahoney, moving laboriously on crutches he still needs because of a 1956 campaign injury and followed by an entourage which included his beaming wife, Abigail.

Pausing to shake hands with reporters seated below the head table, and with every party leader at one end of the head table itself, he finally made it to the microphone.

Clutching a statement promising to support the ticket in November, he became involved in

Oak Wilt Fight Being Planned By Foresters

Forestry personnel will take to the air later this month to learn if and where oak wilt is located in Western Maryland counties.

William H. Johnson, district forester, met recently with Dr. L. O. Weaver, state plant pathologist at the University of Maryland, and H. C. Buckingham, state forester.

They checked over previously eradicated oak wilt areas and found that control in the past has been largely successful. Mr. Johnson said yesterday that it appears there may be a breakout of the wilt in the Town Hill mountain area.

D. Weaver has made arrangements with Bedford Airways to fly over Western Maryland counties to scout infected areas. Forestry Department mappers will go along to check location of any wilt.

They will pass along information to ground crews who will go into the foests to take a close look. If diseased trees are found they will be eradicated and an isolation strip will be installed around the area.

Bedford Airways also does similar work for the Department of Agriculture of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in that state's oak wilt eradication program.

Mr. Johnson said the wilt seems to affect black oak much more than white oak. He said black oak, including red, pin and scarlet oak, is more susceptible

Magistrate Gets Support In Fight Over Expenses

County Should Pay, Legal Office Rules

Trial Magistrate J. Milton Dick yesterday was upheld by an opinion from the Attorney General's office in his fight with the Board of Allegany County Commissioners over payment of expenses incurred in attending various magistrates' meetings.

Mr. Dick, president of the State Trial Magistrates Association, was informed on May 29 by letter from James Stevenson, clerk for the county commissioners, that in the future the county would not pay for trips to committee meetings of the association.

The commissioners contended that the county's mandate to pay expenses to magistrates for attending association meetings does not extend to committee meetings. Magistrate Dick said the bill passed several years ago provided for payment of all expenses to all meetings. He wrote to the attorney general for an opinion.

Text Of Letter

The letter to Mr. Dick from Stedman Prescott Jr., deputy attorney general, said:

"In your recent letter you asked whether or not under the provisions of Article 52, Section 115 of the Annotated Code of Maryland, (1957 edition) you are entitled to recover from the County Commissioners of Allegany County all reasonable and necessary expenses incurred in attending meetings of the committees of the State Trial Magistrates Association.

"Section 115 (c) reads as follows:

"'Dues to Magistrates Association of Allegany County magistrates—The County Commissioners of Allegany County shall pay the annual membership dues in the State Trial Magistrates Association for each trial magistrate of Allegany County who becomes a member thereof, together with all reasonable and necessary expenses incurred while attending any meeting of said association.'

"A meeting is any assembly of a number of persons for the purpose of transacting business in which they have a common interest, American Brass Company vs. Mill and Smelter Works, Conn. 101, Atl. 2d 191. In Talton vs. Behmke, 199 Fed. 2d, 474, the court said, 'It would seem that the explanation "any meeting" needs no definition; it is all-conclusive without limitation or restriction, equivalent to "all" and "every." x x x x'

Language Is Clear

"It is reasonable to believe that the legislature knew that the association was conducting much of its business through its committees since the association's constitution and by-laws provided for its committees at the time the legislation was enacted and therefore specifically provided for the reimbursement of expenses incurred in attending those committee meetings. Had the legislature intended that the county only pay for your attendance at general meetings to which the entire membership was invited it could have said so in so many words. It is clear from the language used that it intended that expenses for attendance at all meetings be paid. Attendance at committee meetings is just as important and in many cases it is even more important than attendance at general meetings.

"Since committee meetings, as well as general meetings, are matters of the State Trial Magistrates Association we are of the opinion that the County Commissioners for Allegany County are obligated to pay all reasonable and necessary expenses for your attendance at those committee meetings."

The controversy began a few years ago when the commissioners said they had no authority to pay expenses incurred by magistrates. The authority was granted in a bill passed later through the efforts of the county delegation to the legislature.

Magistrate Dick said he would write to the commissioners today asking that their decision be rescinded.

Lonaconing's Phone Service Is Expanded

New Dial Circuits Added To Exchange

In Order to provide additional service and telephone circuits for the Lonaconing area, a $10,000 project has been completed by the local Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company, placing the Georges Creek community in more direct communication with Cumberland and other nearby towns.

Direct dial equipment has been added to the Lonaconing branch office and more telephone circuits have been placed between Lonaconing and Cumberland.

It is now possible for Lonaconing subscribers to dial Cumberland telephone numbers directly instead of contacting the Cumberland operator. Cumberland users previously have been able to dial Lonaconing numbers directly.

Circuits also were added from Lonaconing to Frostburg and numbers in the latter exchange now may be obtained simply by dialing "8" for the Frostburg operator. Cumberland subscribers still get the Frostburg operator by dialing "689"

Under the new circuit setup, C&P officials stated, the operator for Piedmont, W. Va., and Westernport numbers may be reached from Lonaconing by dialing "355." This bypasses Cumberland operators who formerly were called and, in turn, called the Piedmont and Westernport operators.

Equipment also was added in the central office at Lonaconing to permit the transfer of calls under most circumstances. This is primarily to intercept calls where telephone numebrs have been changed.

In order to expand the circuit arrangements some Lonaconing subscribers have obtained new telephone numbers. A listing of these numbers is available in the Cumberland business office.

The change in the Lonaconing system is another step in the conversion from manual to dial operation in the tri-state area.

Frostburg's exchange is expected to be converted from manual operation to dial by November 30 when Cumberland, Lonaconing and other communities will be able to dial directly for Frostburg numbers.

City Readies Program For Playgrounds

Nine-Week Season To Open June 23

Plans for the summer playground program are being completed by the staff of the City Recreation Department.

The playgrounds will open on June 23 and remain open for the usual nine weeks, according to Eugene Mason, rec director.

Members of the 25-member playground staff will be attending the annual playground leaders institute during the week of June 16.

Mr. Mason said the department's maintenance staff began to distribute heavy equipment, such as swings and see-saws, to the playgrounds on Monday.

The distribution will be completed, he said, shortly before the 15 playgrounds are officially opened.

Larger playgrounds will be staffed by a play director and leader and the smaller grounds will be operated by a director. Staffers are being selected.

Mr. Mason said the playground program and events will be basically the same as last year but that new group and individual games will be used to brighten up the program.

Municipal Band To Play Sunday

Cumberland's Municipal Band will open the summer concert season Sunday at 7:30 p. m. at the Constitution Park amphitheatre.

In the absence of the band's regular conductor, Dr. Ward Cole, instructor of instrumental music at Frostburg State Teachers College, the 45-member group will be directed by Frank Gamble, supervisor of music for the Allegany County Board of Education.

Among the selections which will be featured at the band's opening concert are the Raymond Overture, the St. Louis Blues March and a baritone horn solo, "Trees," by Joseph K. Trenton, local insurance man.

The public is invited to attend the free concert.

Mrs. Bertha Liller, 219 Massachusetts Avenue, has been awarded a watch she won after entering a nationwide beautician's contest.

Drop In Auto Sales Affects City's Income

Car Taxes Used For Thruway Share

Decreases in the sales of new automobiles affect the income of the City of Cumberland, according to Arthur B. Gibson, city auditor.

Slack car sales reduce the city's share in the gasoline tax and motor vehicle revenues collected by the state and shared with divisions of the state under the Sherbow Plan.

Mr. Gibson said the revenue usually listed as gasoline taxes, comes from two sources, taxes collected on gasoline sales and the state tax on new motor vehicles.

About one-fourth of the gas and auto revenues are derived from the new car sales and the total income to the city from both sources has varied from $58,288.87 for the 1950-51 fiscal year to the $89,826.47 share in the 1955-56 fiscal year.

That was the last year in which the city directly shared in the state income source, as the State Roads Commission during the 1956-57 fiscal year began using it to meet the city's obligation toward the Cumberland Thruway.

According to the Thruway contract, the city promised to make available from gas tax and motor vehicle revenues as match money for available federal-aid funds the amount of $70,000 annually for 1954 through 1960.

The effect was to deprive the city of the gas and auto monies which went into the general fund and paid a considerable part of the Street Department budget.

The revenue source will be available again if the $500,000 Urban Development bond issue is approved at next Tuesday's municipal's election, and the funds are used to meet the Thruway obligation.

During the 1956-57 fiscal year, funds withheld for the Thruway obligation totaled $93,826.51 with 79 per cent of the fund from gas taxes and 21 per cent from new car sales.

Mr. Gibson said the city has received no word on the city's share of the revenues during the present fiscal year.

The city's share of taxes on new car sales was 31 per cent of gas and auto taxes in 1950-51, 27 per cent in 1951-52, 25 per cent in 1952-53 and 21 per cent in 1953-54.

Frostburg Auto Submits Apparent Low Truck Bid

The Frostburg Auto Company submitted the apparent low net bid for three new dump trucks for the Allegany County Roads Department, a figure of $12,600, including allowances for three used trucks.

Five bids were received and were referred to Gorman E. Getty, attorney, J. Walker Chapman, roads supervisor, for tabulation and report, probably next week.

Other bidders were St. George Motor Company, this city, $4,595 net for each truck, a total of $13,785; Collins GMC Truck Company, Baltimore Pike, $5,263, $5,063 and $5,063, or a total for all three of $14,889.15; Heiskell Motor Sales, Frostburg, $5,859 for each truck less $500 allowance or $5,369 each, a grand total of $16,107; The Light and Decker Company, this city, $7,931.75 each, less allowances of $1,900 each on two used trucks and $1,800 on the third, a grand total of $18,195.25.

Assembly Fight Over Jobless Pay Foreseen

No Rubber Stamp, Says Turnbull

BALTIMORE (AP) — Another sign went up Tuesday that Friday's special session of the General Assembly will not be cut and dried.

Sen. Goodman (D-Balto 5th) proclaimed he will oppose authorization for two proposed Baltimore City loans unless they are in more specific form than outlined.

The city administration wants to ask the voters in November to double the amount of a civic center loan to 12 million dollars and authorize 25 million as part of a downtown rehabilitation project.

Goodman said he will go along only if the proposals set a time limit on spending the loan and include "definite and specific plans" for construction.

At least two delegates from the city also announced they will have many questions.

Sen. Turnbull (D-Balto County) also has said he expects considerable searching of the reason for calling the special session—temporary extension of jobless pay benefits from 26 to 39 weeks.

Others Opposed

He let it be known he was not going to rubber stamp the proposal and that he knew of "seven or eight other senators" who oppose it.

Del. Mandel (D-Balto 5th), chairman of the city delegation, had suspected there might be considerable floor oratory on the loans unless the air was cleared beforehand.

He had intended to summon the 35 other delegates and ask the 6 senators to attend an advance meeting in the city.

But Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro vetoed it, saying "full hearings will be held in Annapolis."

Members of the finance committees from both houses will assemble Thursday afternoon to hash over the proposed extension of weekly unemployment benefits.

Turnbull said they will listen as long as midnight, if necessary.

Legislative leaders have agreed in conference with Gov. McKeldin to take up only the loans and the jobless pay. But some leaders said privately this wasn't their fear of reconvening.

Elections are coming up in November, they said pointedly. Some candidates might seize the opportunity to try to make political hay. Others, already defeated in the primary or retiring, may want to have a last fling at floor oratory or start early on an effort to return to office.

New Senator Named

The latest switch in the legislative makeup was made Tuesday.

J. Raymond Buffington Jr. was named interim Democratic state senator from Baltimore's Third District. Buffington will fill the seat of Thomas F. Dempsey, who decided not to seek re-election and then was appointed chief traffic magistrate of Baltimore City.

Buffington, a member of the House for 16 years, won the Democratic nomination for the Senate seat May 20. He will be opposed by Samuel Culotta, a Republican delegate from the district for the past four years.

The Democratic central committee from the Third District named Robert Sweeney to take Bufflington's seat in the House at Friday's special session.

Flowers Planted In Park Areas

Flowers were being planted in city park areas this week, according to Mrs. Marguerite Findlay, Park Board member.

Spring bulbs, she said, have been dug up and stored at Allegany Historical Society headquarters.

Garden Club Donates To Helen Miller Memorial

The Garden Club of Cumberland voted to donate $250 to the Helen Miller Memorial Fund after hearing a report on the fund's progress from Rudolph Steinberger, vice president of the fund committee, at a meeting Monday night.

Purpose of the fund is to set up a small natural park devoted to birds and flowers in memory of Mrs. Miller, who was president of the club at the time of her death in March.

If there's enough money on hand when the project is started, a memorial plaque may be included.

No drive or solicitation for funds wil lbe conducted, but the club said it hopes individuals and organizations will contribute, first, in recognition of Mrs. Miller's work to beautify the city and county; and, second, to help provide a beauty spot that everyone can enjoy.

Contributions may be sent to Charles A. Piper, treasurer of the Helen Mfller Memorial Fund, Liberty Trust Building, Cumberland. Former Chief Judge George Henderson, president of the fund, said progress reports will be issued periodically.

At Monday's meeting, the club elected Mrs. George Henderson president. Mrs. William P. Durland was elected first vice president; Mrs. Rudolph Steinberger, second vice president; Mrs. Robert Horstman, recording secretary; Harry Miller, treasurer, and Mrs. James Pitkethly, corresponding secretary.

The club also heard an announcement that the Fifth District Federation of Garden Clubs of Maryland will hold its fifth annual flower show Tuesday, September 30, at St. John's Episcopal Church, Hagerstown. The show, based on the theme "Around the World," will be open from 2 to 8:30 p.m.

Man Killed When Shot By Own Gun

Joseph S. Smith, 50, of Star Route, Everett, Pa., was fatally wounded yesterday morning when he was shot by his own gun in a freak accident which occurred as he was getting out of his car.

Deputy Coroner Ralph Mickle ruled the death accidental. Authorities surmise that Mr. Smith, an ardent groundhog hunter, was getting out of his car when a .22 calibre rifle slid across the seat of the auto and fired. The bullet hit the victim in the back of his head.

Police believe the accident occurred about 9 a.m. along Piney Creek Road, Monroe Township, about three miles from the victim's home.

About 9:30 a.m. his body was found by Earl Mills who lives nearby. The victim's body was removed to the Conner Funeral Home in Everett.

Police said the victim lived alone.

Meister President Of Police, Fire Group
